LAUSCHE HITS 'COLD-HEARTED' GOP PROGRAM

Claims Credit for Humanizing Ohio Welfare Agencies In Mansfield Talk.

Richland county Democrats uncorked their Sunday punch here yesterday afternoon when Gov. Frank J. Lausche made a strong bid for support of veterans and rapped the Republicans for what he described as "cold-hearted," materialistic policy toward the state's welfare patients.

The governor, running for his second term, and Senator James W. Huffman were the headline candidates who appeared at a political rally at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Some 350 persons heard them talk.

In seeking support of former servicemen and women, Gov. Lausche declared:

Favors Vet Bonus.

That he favored a state bonus for veterans "who risked their lives on battlefields while we at home were earning big profits and wages."

He had created a governor's commission that aided 60,000 veterans to enroll in Ohio's colleges and universities.

He had ordered discontinuance of state civil service examinations in order to give veterans a chance to compete for state jobs upon their return from military service.

That it was his recommendation to the legislature which resulted in an appropriation of $6,000,000 for veterans' emergency housing.

That at least 10 different state laws, at his request, were changed to correct wrongs to veterans.

The governor also contended that there had been in his 22 months of administration more help given to the economically and physically handicapped and the mentally ill than in the past 22 years of Ohio history.

RECOMMITS BOY TO COUNTY HOME

ASHLAND—Probate Judge S. H. Boffenmyer today recommended to the Ashland county children's home one of the three children convicted of starting the $15,000 fire which destroyed the barn at the home Oct. 21, and committed the other two youths to the state bureau of juvenile research in Columbus.

His action followed a series of protests against the allegedly severe sentence imposed on the trio at a hearing two days after the fire. All three at that time were sentenced to the Boy's Industrial school at Lancaster.

The protests were climaxed Tuesday, when a petition signed by 150 residents of Perryville asked a review of the case, and a motion for a new hearing was filed by Atty. Charles C. Chapman, representing the board of the First Methodist church here.

Youngest Sent to Home.

The youngest of the trio, an 11-year-old boy, was ordered returned to the home by Judge Boffenmyer. The two other youths, one 13 and the other 15, were committed to the juvenile bureau in Columbus "for examination and recommendation."

Judge Boffenmyer said the bureau probably would take one of three courses—affirm the previous sentence to Lancaster; commit the boys to the state welfare department, or return them to Ashland county.

He said if the two youths are returned to Ashland, they would be placed in two private homes. Two Ashland residents already have offered to be responsible for the youths, he said.

FIGHT LOOMS OVER FUTURE U. N. SITE

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—The United States today asked the United Nations to include the greater New York and San Francisco Bay areas in its consideration of a permanent UN headquarters site.

The American delegation to the UN general assembly opened a strong counter-attack on a reported backstage campaign to establish the world organization's permanent home somewhere outside the United States—perhaps Geneva, Switzerland.

Centennial Opens Impressively

Traditions Of Church Observed

In an impressive ceremony, rich with the solemn traditions of the Catholic church, the Most Rev. Karl J. Alter, bishop of Toledo, today consecrated the main altar of St. Peter's church.

The consecration was the first event on the three-day celebration of the centennial of St. Peter's church in Mansfield.

The same service included the consecration of the two side altars. Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor, consecrated the St. Joseph altar, while Msgr. R. I. Kinnane, Vicar General of the Diocese of Toledo and pastor of St. Mary's church, Tiffin, consecrated the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Bishop Alter celebrated the Pontifical low mass which followed the consecration services. Assisting him were Msgr. R. C. Goebel and Msgr. R. T. Kinnane of Tiffin. Rev. Kenneth A. Hans and Rev. Napoleon Kotz, assisted Msgr. Kinnane while Rev. Aloysius F. Sobczak and Rev. Timothy M. Downey assisted Msgr. Goebel.

SPECIAL MUSIC BY SCHOLA CANTORUM

Special music for the occasion was furnished by schola cantorum, or group of chanters from the Sacred Heart Seminary at Shelby. Organist was Raymond E. Baum. Rev. R. V. O'Connor, pastor of the Good Shepherd church, Toledo, narrator for the services, described each action.

Two members of the clergy acted as masters of ceremonies. Rev. Leo F. Griffin, secretary to Bishop Alter, acted in behalf of the consecration and Rev. Joseph I. Schill, assistant principal of the Calvert high school at Tiffin, as MC for the congregation and clergy.

Proceeding the consecration a colorful procession escorted Bishop Alter from the rectory to the church. Following the cross-bearer, Rev. Albert C. Sprenger of the St. Agnes parish, Toledo, came the servers, priests, monsignors and the bishop. Members of the Knights of Columbus, in full dress, acted as honor guard for Bishop Alter who gave his blessing to the crowds assembled outside the church.

Puts on Vestments.

Spirit World Remains Dark To Magicians

DETROIT—(AP)—A group of 13 Detroit magicians admit today that "the mystery of the spirit world is still a mystery."

In a darkened hotel room last night, the 13 amateur and professional magicians, met at the stroke of midnight. They gathered in a circle around a chair holding an autographed photograph of Houdini, an autographed copy of his book and a pair of locked handcuffs used by the great magician.

As the clock struck, Detroit magician Robert Ungerwittler solemnly called:

"If the spirit of Harry Houdini is at hand, let it manifest itself upon these objects so closely associated with him."

Silence. The 13 sat staring at the chair for five minutes, but nothing happened.

The lights went on again and Magician Ungerwittler turned to his colleagues and the three official "skeptics" and stated:

"We have proved nothing at all by this. The mystery of the spirit world is still a mystery. We haven't proved that it doesn't exist—we have only failed to establish contact."

DRIVER RAMS VICTIM

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Police of suburban Brook Park village today sought a motorist who reportedly used his automobile to twice ram a passenger he had just discharged. The victim, George Sabo, 50, was unconscious on arrival at a hospital last night.

1,200 REFUGEES SENT TO CYPRUS

HAIFA—(AP)—Despite defiant screams and intermittent violence, 1,200 Jewish refugees were transferred today from the almost-flooding immigrant ship San Dimitrios to two British vessels for deportation to Cyprus.

The transfer quickly followed a general strike and mass meeting at which the deportation of the refugees was protested by Haifa's Jews. Two thousand Jews, leaving the mass meeting, marched on British street barricades but dispersed before any violence occurred.

The marching Jews, facing signs in Hebrew and English reading "disperse or we fire," broke up and went away singing the Hatikvah and other Jewish anthems and carrying black mourning flags.

Haifa's 60,000 Jews stopped work at 8:30 a. m. for a two-and-a-half hour general strike and a mass meeting was held on Hadar Haarmel at which speakers cried: "Our brothers already are starving in Cyprus."

The strike and mass meeting were called by a destroyer-escorted refugee vessel carrying 1,400 prospective European immigrants named Haifa.

The vessel, listing so badly that the red paint of her keel was visible above the waterline, was the San Dimitrios. As she drew abreast the entrance to Haifa harbor she appeared to be lashed to two minesweepers.

NO FUNDS CACHED, DECLARES SCHACHT

STUTTGART—(AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht who once was keeper of Germany's treasury denied today from a prison room that he cached money abroad for himself or other Nazi leaders.

Schacht, awaiting trial before a denazification tribunal, declared in a statement to International News Service:

"If Hermann Goering, Joseph Goebbels, Joachim Von Ribbentrop or myself succeeded in caching huge sums of money abroad under various aliases or through agents these transactions were certainly carried out without my knowledge."

The lights went on again and Magician Ungerwittler turned to his colleagues and the three official "skeptics" and stated:

"We have proved nothing at all by this. The mystery of the spirit world is still a mystery. We haven't proved that it doesn't exist—we have only failed to establish contact."

TRIAL REVEALS OCT. 12 BURGLARY BY TRUSTY

A trusty at the county jail burglarized Sheriff Frank E. Robinson's living quarters and escaped with jewelry items valued at $150 last Oct. 12, it was revealed by testimony given today in municipal court.

After he had pleaded not guilty to the charge of grand larceny William Dailey of Akron was asked by Judge H. H. Schettler if he wanted to testify.

Rising to his feet Dailey said: "You sent me over to the jail for

CHIANG FORCES ENCIRCLE REDS

PEIPING—(AP)—Chinese government armies, increasing the tempo and range of their civil war, rushed vanguards to within 33 miles of Dairen today, encircling 100,000 fiercely fighting communists in Chefoo, and engaged their countrymen in half a dozen other sectors.

The pro-government Jih Pao vanguards reached Pulantien, only 33 miles north of Dairen on the border between Manchuria and Kwantung peninsula. Their objective is to cut off the Liaoting peninsula communists from the Manchurian mainland. The nationalists had driven south down the Mukden-Dairen railway.

Government sources previously said Gen. Tu Li-Ming's troops, fresh from capturing Antung, would not menace Dairen itself, but would establish a 30-mile safety zone around that Russian-occupied open port.

Nationals striking at Chefoo and the Shantung peninsula to cut off the Reds' Yellow Sea route to Manchuria approached the suburbs of Yehshien, one of the four largest ports on the northern coast, and engaged Chinese Fed forces in two others.

Let Agency Run Vet Project, Amvets Urge

Proposals for making the Mansfield Metropolitan Housing Authority manager of the county's vet housing project and naming the Robert P. Spreng post of Amvets as the listing agency for the project were submitted to county commissioners today by the Amvets.

The recommendations were set up last night at a meeting of the Amvets' executive committee at the Memorial building.

During the meeting, the Amvet housing committee was given full authority to offer any assistance to the commissioners, or any other agencies, in any manner it deemed necessary to speed the housing project.

Walter E. Rusk, county engineer, told the committee that he had run levels to the sewer line and had found it feasible to connect lines at the proposed site facing on Bowers avenue.

It was also suggested last night that the Amvets' housing committee seek another meeting with the county commissioners to urge them to approve the Bowers avenue site for the project and get work started on it.

Several of the Amvets said there was a "lack of any concrete progress" on the housing project. Others disagreed, saying they thought considerable progress had been made during the past week and the veterans should work with the commissioners instead of criticizing them.

Present at last night's committee meeting were Frank Heitz, Earl Gaar, Franklin Newton, James P. Gills, Jr., Charles A. Boughton, Elden Becker, Norman Hakes, Waldon Kenyon, Lester P. Adams, Richard Underwood, John L. Catlett, M. Stanton Fox and Mary Jane Bellore.

Serving on the housing committee are: Elden Becker, chairman; Charles Boughton, first vice-commander; Norman Hakes, Lester Adams and James Gills, Jr.

DANCERS PROTEST

TOKYO—(AP)—Eighty of Tokyo's best looking taxi dancers, representing all the dance halls in the city, marched on the city hall today and "persuasively" appealed for abolition of the 100 per cent tax recently placed on them.

COMMUNISTS WIN CONTROL OF CHILE

SANTIAGO, Chile—(AP)—For the first time in the history of South America Communists became leading members of a nation's government today.

President-elect Gabriel Gonzalez Videla, who ran for election with the support of the Communist party, named three of its leaders to his cabinet. They are:

Carlos Contreras Labarco, communications and public works; Miguel Concha, agriculture, and Victor Contreras, land and colonization. The new president will be inaugurated Sunday in ceremonies in which naval forces of the United States and Argentina will take part.

Wallace Hits U. S., Russian Policies

MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace accuses the U. S. and Soviet Russia of "vigorously practicing their own brand of imperialism" and threatening world peace through mutual suspicion and self-righteousness.

This has reached "a point which threatens the peace and standard of living of every man, woman and child in the world," Wallace told the Wisconsin Association of Cooperatives last night.

Harrington Discloses Dismissal

Long-smoldering difficulties at Mansfield's airport blazed into the open today.

J. R. (Bud) Harrington, municipal airport manager, revealed he had been forced to resign as president of the Harrington Air Service, Inc., and the Harrington Manufacturing company.

His brother-in-law, Arthur Cornell of Shelby, filed suit in common pleas court to gain possession of two hangars at the port which he claims he leased to the Harrington firms, now in control of Robert B. Black, a director of the Ohio Brass company, and a group of associates.

Harrington said that Black became president of Harrington Aviation, Inc., the parent holding company for the two operating firms. Otis Cummins was named vice president and L. F. Hartman was elected secretary following his own resignation.

Officials of Harrington Aviation, Inc., through their spokesman, L. J. Ott, said this morning they had no statement to make other than that there is no direct financial or other connection between the Ohio Brass company and the Harrington companies.

Harrington remains the city's airport manager.

In revealing his removal from the companies, which bear his name, Harrington, who is also president of the Great Lakes Air Lines company, said that he will operate the latter enterprise from the Mansfield airport if he gains possession of the Number Seven hangar and the city and the Civil Aeronautics Board permit it.

Complete text of Harrington's statement on his ouster and the suit filed today will be found on page 7.

CLAIMS HANGAR RENT UNPAID

Cornell's petition in common pleas court claims he leased hangars Number Three and Number Seven to the Harrington Air Service, Inc., for a period of ten years beginning Aug. 31, 1942, and July 10, 1943, respectively. He charges rental fees, due on the first day of each month, have been unpaid under demand since March 1, 1946.

He charges the firm has violated the terms of the leases and asks that the hangars be restored to him and that the Air Service company be enjoined from interfering with his ownership and possession of the buildings.

Attlee Finds No Job for Former King

LONDON—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor conferred today with Prime Minister Attlee—but didn't get a job.

An authoritative government source said after the conference that there was no suitable appointment for the duke.

The former king entered No. 10 Downing street by a rear entrance and left the same way after talking with Attlee nearly an hour.

Steamship officials said they understood Windsor and his duchess would sail for New York Nov. 6.

COTTON GOING UP AFTER BIG SLUMP

NEW YORK—(AP)—Cotton futures on the New York cotton exchange today soared $5 to the maximum allowable $10 a bale at the opening today under the impetus of heavy overnight buying orders.

It was the second day in a row of board recovery following the Wednesday shutdown and reflected widespread confidence that the market's record-breaking slump of $50 a bale in the last fortnight had been finally checked.

SHIPS GO VISITING

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—A group of U. S. naval vessels, including the carrier USS Leyte and the battleship Wisconsin, will pay "informal visits" to ports in Venezuela and Peru next month following participation in the presidential inauguration ceremonies at Valparaiso, Chile, Nov. 4-5, the navy said today.

PRICE BOARD OPERATED HERE FOR 4 YEARS

6 Employees In Mansfield Lose Jobs Along With 10,000 Throughout Nation.

Mansfield's OPA War Price and Rationing office, along with other Ohio OPA boards and 1,642 in the nation will close Monday, leaving 10,000 persons without jobs. The Mansfield office has a staff of six workers.

The area rental office here probably will remain open, at least for a time, a spokesman for the agency said.

Meanwhile, controls from 100 more items were lifted today by OPA. They included paper and wood matches, milking machines and other dairy equipment, some lighting fixtures, a few lumber items and a long line of industrial products.

Opened in 1942.

The first control office in Mansfield was opened in June, 1942. The first office was set up in the Farmers Bank building with James Bailey as manager. Sugar was the first article placed under control.

As more items were put under control, the office required larger quarters and was moved to the present site of Klein Furriers on North Mulberry street. While at this location, C. C. Beelman, present manager, took over the duties on Dec. 1, 1942.

Since Dec. 24, 1942, the office has been maintained at 58 1/2 North Main street.

Beelman, who has put in three years and 11 months as a volunteer, non-paid worker with the board, said today that the peak employment of the office reached 19 persons.

Praises Volunteers.

"During that peak of rationing, we had 300 volunteer workers with us," Beelman said, adding, "If it hadn't been for them we couldn't have put out the work. As many as 50 of them worked at the same time."

Since the release of rationing, Beelman estimated that the board has handled 200 cases of violations, and has been able to secure refunds either to the consumer or to the treasurer of the U. S. in the amount of $15,000.

He said that the board, although closed to the public on Monday, will remain open to the workers until Nov. 12, when each employee will receive a 30-day notice that he's out of a job.

Beelman said that all present employees will be assisted in obtaining other work through the Employees' Employment Security program, set up in August of this year.

Help Find Jobs.

Beelman said that the security committees will investigate employment opportunities in industry, business professions and in government and will help fit those persons, with qualifications and experience into these positions.

MURDER CASE GOES TO JURY TONIGHT

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—(AP)—The fate of Bridget Water, Irish war bride, charged with killing her American husband, was expected to be placed in the hands of the jury tonight.

As Mrs. Waters prepared to return to the witness stand for further cross-examination, District Attorney V. Gray Gubler disclosed that a night session of the court had been scheduled.

Gubler said that by agreement between himself, District Judge A. S. Henderson and Chief Defense Counsel L. O. Hawkins, tonight's session would continue until both sides had finished their final arguments and the jurist had delivered his instructions.

Swindler Talks Fast, Gets $5,500

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Police searched today for a fast-talking, grey-haired man accused of fleecing an attractive widow of $5,500 with a story of some quick profits in a platinum deal.

The victim was Mrs. Gertrude Oler, 45, Baltimore. She said the man, who identified himself as Leon Devries, told her big profits could be made if she would invest in platinum which he could obtain from the war assets administration.

Officials Consider Superhighways

PROPOSAL CALLS FOR 5 TO PASS THROUGH STATE

One Turnpike Would Cross Richland County Near Mansfield.

A proposal for five Ohio superhighways, one of which would pass through Richland county near Mansfield, was under consideration today by a committee of 200 Ohioans.

The Ohio Turnpike committee, met last week in Columbus to lay initial plans for the 1,000-mile privately-financed toll highways which would cost an estimated $650,000,000.

A superhighway from Cleveland to Cincinnati, traversing the state nearly diagonally, would cross Richland county from the extreme southwestern tip to the central eastern border, passing within a few miles of Mansfield.

This turnpike, which would cost $160,000,000, would link Mansfield with Cleveland, the Columbus area and Cincinnati by a broad superhighway that probably would cut motorists' traveling time considerably. It would be 240 miles long.

Four Other Routes. The other four routes, similar in concept and design to the famed Pennsylvania Turnpike, are:

1. From the Pennsylvania Turnpike to the Indiana state line, in the northern section of the state. Costing approximately $160,000,000, the highway would be 237 miles long.

2. Pennsylvania Turnpike to the Indiana state line, through the central portion of the state. Distance 240 miles, cost $160,000,000.

3. From Erie, Pa., to the Cleveland area, connecting with the New York Turnpike. This 80-mile highway would cost approximately $50,000,000.

4. South from Toledo and passing near Findlay, Lima, Springfield and Dayton to Cincinnati. Distance 200 miles, cost approximately $130,000,000.

Three-Year Program. The program, as proposed by the turnpike committee, would take three years. It is estimated by the committee that approximately 75,000 workers would be employed.

Financing would be backed by private interests, but the roads would be controlled by a state commission appointed by the governor.

When the toll money pays for the highways, the roads would become the property of the state.

Need Legislation. The committee, composed of manufacturers, road contractors and labor representatives, agreed that approval of the state assembly will be the first goal.

State Sen. Ralph Winters of Lodi, representing the 27th-29th district of which Mansfield is a part, said at the meeting last week that "the committee is not asking for tax money (because) the project will be paid through tolls."

PROPOSED SUPERHIGHWAY NETWORK—This drawing shows how the five superhighways proposed by the Ohio Turnpike committee, a newly-formed group meeting in Columbus, would criss-cross Ohio. The highway running from Cincinnati to Cleveland would pass through Richland county within a few miles of Mansfield. Total cost of the projects would be approximately $650,000,000, and would be financed through toll charges, according to the committee.

Sheriff Finds His Prisoners Costing County More Now

The county commissioners yesterday approved a supplemental appropriation of $4,000 for the sheriff's department after Sheriff Frank E. Robinson told them that increased cost of meals, haircuts and equipment for prisoners at the county jail made additional funds necessary.

"Cost of meals for the prisoners is the biggest item," Robinson said. "The legislature recently increased authorized payments for meals from 28 to 33 1/2 cent per meal. Haircuts are costing us more now, and so are blankets, mattresses and other equipment."

The commission also bolstered the county's soldiers' relief commission with a supplemental appropriation of $3,000. It was the second supplement of the year, as $10,000 was appropriated last May.

Sheriff Robinson, in asking for the added funds, said $3,000 of the $4,000 requested was needed because of the increased cost of living.

He pointed out that kidney, lima and "soup" beans now cost about 20 cents per pound, as compared with only four or five cents a few years ago. Lard now sells at nearly 40 cents a pound, he said, but only a few years ago cost four to five cents.

Why a Vote For Lausche Is Voting For The NEW DEAL

Because he appointed to the U. S. Senate last winter an Ohio Senator who has voted for everything in the New Deal program, including the PAC's Budget of socialistic demands.

The Democratic Governor helped the New Deal "as is" by supplying it with an important vote and worker from Ohio.

HE IS NOW SUPPORTING SENATOR HUFFMAN FOR ELECTION, AND FAVORS KEEPING THIS NEW DEALER IN POWER.

We don't care how much the Democratic Candidate assumes, lets on, mutters, or pretends that he is against the New Deal administration. We know that, when he had the chance, he appointed a senator who has supported the New Deal Program 100%.

Car Accident Causes Death Of Galion Man

GALION — Clyde Frederick Winch, 47, a prominent farmer, known throughout the state for winning horse-pulling contests, was killed at 3 p. m. Thursday as the result of an automobile accident on U. S. Route 30-S, about one mile south of the Galion Country club.

Mr. Winch who lived four miles northwest of Galion on the Dice road, was returning to his home from a business trip to Delaware when his car skidded on the wet pavement and went into a ditch. He died on the way to Galion City hospital. He suffered a crushed chest.

Mr. Winch was born in Morrow county, Jan. 29, 1899, the son of Henry and Mary Stoltz Winch. His marriage June 30, 1919, was to Julia Christman, who died May 2, 1939.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Leroy Stewart of northwest of Galion; Mrs. Eldon Fetter of west of Galion; Margaret, Florence, Martha, Charles, Esther, Myron, Joan, all at home, and two grandchildren. Three children preceded him in death. Mr. Winch was a member of the Windfall Reformed church, northwest of Galion, and of the Eagles lodge of Bucyrus. He also belonged to the Buckeye Rangers Horse club of this vicinity, and was a member of the Horse Pulling Association of Ohio.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Volk funeral home. Rev. Foust of Ashland will officiate, and burial will be in Fairview cemetery here. Friends may call at the family home until 10 a. m. Monday.

FINDS BONES

SILVERTON, Ore. — (INS) — A farmer, digging for water has unearthed what Dr. Warren D. Smith, University of Oregon, has called "the most important paleontological discovery in the state." "Paleontological" means bones—a treasure of them which, judging from one 7 1/2-foot tusk may fit together into one of the prehistoric 14-foot-high mastodons, great-grandfather to the elephant of 20 to 30 thousand years ago.

ONE 'OLD GLORY'

NEW YORK — (INS) — Call our nation's flag "Old Glory" and you're guilty of an affectionate misnomer. There is only one "Old Glory," and that's a U. S. flag with 24 stars, now in a museum in Salem, Mass. It was named by a Salem Shipmaster, Captain William Driver, shortly after Missouri was admitted as the 24th state of the nation.

Nabs Bird, Fish With Single Cast
WILMINGTON, N. C. — (E.P.) — C. H. Alston of Wilmington claims the rare distinction of landing a bird and a fish with the same line at the same time.
Alston was competing in a fishing rodeo at Fort Fisher when a fat gray trout took his hook. Just as the fish broke the water, a sea chicken swooped down and became entangled in the second hook on the lure. Alston reeled in both.

Scout Executive Outlines Winter Program

50 TROOPS HERE PLAN SCHEDULE OF ACTIVITIES

'Scribes' Organized to Help Youngsters Improve Their Writing.

By MARGUERITE MILLER
"A Girl Scout is not a 10-year-old with a hatchet and pigtail!" Thus, debunking the misconception of the national organization Mrs. Myrtle Ruff, local scout executive, proved her point by outlining the winter activities which will be carried on by 50 troops in Mansfield this season.

The signal for the in-door program will be given at the conclusion of the observance of Girl Scout Week, Sunday.

"A girl, who works at the scouting program, is well-versed in all types of crafts, home-making, arts, music and literature, in addition to the fundamental outdoor activities," Mrs. Ruff continued.

"Few people know the real program of the Girl Scouts. They jump to the conclusion that all scouts are outdoor enthusiasts, who build camp fires and then sit around and sing songs."

Programs Planned.
And so for the more accurate picture on Girl Scout activities, here are some of the programs, either already begun or scheduled for various troops this winter.

Probably the newest activity in the entire program is one introduced into Troop 2 last year by Mrs. Howard Wenning, former Mansfield newspaperwoman. Recognizing the need for clearer writing as well as thinking, Mrs. Wenning organized the "Scribes," which have increased to more than 60 members this year from the 40 last year.

One of the immediate outgrowths of this group has been "Scribbles," a monthly publication, written by the various troop representatives, who make up the "Scribes," and edited by Mrs. Wenning.

40 Girls Enrolled.
"The girls began by studying a short course in journalism, derived from library books," Mrs. Wenning said. "At first we asked for a representative from each troop. Forty girls enrolled. This year we repeated the offer. One troop wants to send 12 girls."

Meeting the growing enthusiasm in the basic newspaper training, the scout office has now authorized that award of a Scribe badge, toward which the girls must work through the year.

Three points of the 19-point program requirements are mandatory. These are: 1. a short descriptive story of the community in fewer than 300 words; 2. preparation of a short manuscript which may be submitted to a newspaper editor; 3. another 300-word essay on the community to be done at the end of the course to compare with the first work.

Other Program Points.
Other points of the program are word buildings lessons, the story of the alphabet, romance of words, use of the dictionary and the derivation of words. All girls in the Scribes must keep a daily record for a period of three months.

But Troop 2, headed by Mrs. E. L. Becker, is known for more than the Scribes. Now on display in the Ohio Fuel Gas company window are some of the troop's work, namely a doll house and complete furnishings and several quilts, knotted by the girls. The winter program for the troop calls for linoleum block printing in the arts and crafts field, through which training the troop members will learn to make their own Christmas cards.

Home-making, which according to Mrs. Ruff, is one of the most popular of the snow-time activities has already been completed by Troop 15, under the direction of Mrs. Maurice Lybarger. Troop 15 has selected arts and crafts for their winter project.

Under the heading of the unusual comes the marching program set up by Troop 14, led by Mrs. Harold George and Mrs. W. M. Wilson. The decision to take up rhythm work was a direct result of the Fire Prevention Week parade, Oct. 12, in which the Girl Scouts took $5 first prize as a marching group.

Based on Drum Rhythm.
The program for better marching form will be based on drum beat rhythm, which will eventually develop into an unaccompanied marching time by the girls, themselves.

Troop 22, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Orr, has completed work toward the cyclist badges, which is now going strong over in Troop 27, headed by Mrs. Joy A. Herbert. Going a little beyond the call of duty, Mrs. Herbert has taken the troop on a tour of bicycle "garages" where they're learning the fundamentals of fixing a tire, and care of their bikes. Mrs. Herbert added that Traffic Commissioner Fred C. Boals will be a guest of the Troop at the conclusion of the work for a safety talk.

But, that by no means, represents the entire program. For instance, Troop 10, under the leadership of Miss Helen McCauslin, is concentrating on international friendship, program of which consists of writing letters to girls in European countries through the Girl Guides (comparable organization to the Girl Scouts of America in England, France and Greece).

However, outdoor activities will not be missing from the winter schedule, as skating and tobogganing will figure in as strongly as dancing, music, literature and dramatics.

When the case of Finkelstein vs. Margolies was called, it developed that Finkelstein wanted back $300 he claimed he had loaned Margolies.

Furthermore, he had two witnesses who swore they saw him give Margolies the money. Undaunted, Margolies jumped to his feet and yelled, "Your honor, for every crooked witness Finkelstein produces who saw him give me the money, I will produce three what saw me give it back to him two days later."

"Judge," Finkelstein yelled even louder, "just to show you what a liar Margolies is—I never lent him the money in the first place!"

The baggage car of the Georgia Central's slowest train contained two sacks of mail, a battered trunk, seven packages—and one live mule, with a destination tag tied around his neck. Just before the train reached Athens, the mule chewed up the tag. Mose, the brakeman, discovered the loss, and exclaimed, "Now what is we gonna do wid dis crazy mule? He done et up where he's goin'."

McGregor Staunch Veteran Supporter

"Congressman McGregor is a member of several very important committees of the House of Representatives and, since his election, has been known as a tireless worker for all legislation beneficial to the 'Common Man,' as well as the Veterans. He has been extremely active in the Public Building and Grounds Committee in his efforts to secure priorities and much needed homes for our veterans.

THE R. V. A. (REGULAR VETERANS ASSOCIATION) SENDS 'ORCHIDS' TO OUR GENIAL COMRADE FROM OHIO AND EXPRESSES OUR VERY BEST WISHES AND SINCERE APPRECIATION FOR THE FINE SUPPORT HE HAS GIVEN THE REGULAR VETERANS ASSOCIATION."

(The above statement from the May 1946 issue of "The Regular," official paper of the Regular Veterans Association, National Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

William M. Floyd, National Commander)

In addition to supporting Veterans legislation, McGregor was author of HR 4498—Provided for discharge from active duty—prohibited a Commanding Officer from declaring a man essential (during peace time) and thereby prohibited freezing him in the service and to his job. Give pay to enlisted personnel for terminal leave (same recognition that had been given officers).

The Democratic Candidate for Congress falsely claims McGregor was not a friend of the Veteran. The above record speaks for itself.

Will Remove Danger to 40 School Pupils

Forty pupils of the Center Hall school in Millin township will be removed immediately from the danger of falling brick, Boyd Robinson, county school superintendent, said today.

The danger existed due to a leaning south wall of the building, he explained. As soon as it was reported, Robinson had a fire and building inspector from Marion to study the problem.

The inspector recommended that 12 feet of flooring be laid back from the wall over the thin ceiling. It is this recommendation that is to be followed.

"We didn't want to go to a lot of expense since a new consolidated building is planned in the bed township, but we had to be sure that no one was being endangered," he said. The Millin township school board plans to make the repair immediately, he said.

MOTHER FEARS TB, KILLS 6 CHILDREN

SAN JUAN, P. R.—(AP)—A 28-year-old mother of six children, fearful that they might contract tuberculosis from their father, killed five of the children by slashing their throats, seriously injured the sixth and then cut her own throat yesterday.

The multiple slayings and suicide took place in the small village of Guanica. The husband looked helplessly on from his sickbed.

Eloisa Casiano de Saez first cut the throats of Gloria, aged five months, and Elsie, 18 months, and then went from bed to bed to the other four children. The eldest, an eight-year-boy, fled before his mother could kill him.

RESOLUTION NO. 46-208

By MR. SWARTZ:
Declaring it necessary to construct a sanitary sewer on Reform Street from Beethoven Street to Luther Street and south therefrom in an easement to lot No. 11,976 Mansfield.

Be it Resolved by the Council of the City of Mansfield, State of Ohio, three-fourths of all members elected thereto concurring:

Section 1: That it is necessary to construct a sanitary sewer on Reform Street from Beethoven Street to Luther Street and south therefrom in an easement to lot No. 11,976 Mansfield, according to plans and specifications now on file in the office of the City Engineer.

Section 2: That the costs of said improvement less two per cent thereof shall be assessed in proportion to the benefits which may result from said improvement upon the following described lots and lands: all lots and lands bounding and abutting upon proposed improvement, not already assessed for sanitary sewer, which lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefited by said improvement, and the costs of said improvement shall include the cost of preliminary and other surveys, printing and publishing of notices and resolutions and ordinances required and the serving of said notices, the cost of construction together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of such assessment in cash within thirty days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

Section 3: That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in three (3) annual installments with interest on deferred payment at the same rate as the bonds that shall be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof; provided that the owner of any property assessed may, in his option, pay such assessment in cash within thirty days after the passage of the assessing ordinance.

Section 4: That bonds of the City of Mansfield shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto.

Section 5: That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specially assessed shall be paid out of the General Fund.

Section 6: That this Resolution shall be in full force and effect from and after the earliest time allowed by law.

Passed: October 22, 1946.

Signed: W. E. BRADFORD, President of Council.

Approved: ROY W. VAUGHN, Mayor.

THE FEATHER

Who took Jerry Muskrat's Clam from the bank of the Smiling Pool? It was a mystery. That no one had taken it, there was no question at all. That Clam couldn't have walked off, or flown off, for there is no one more helpless than a Clam out of water. All it can do is to shut itself up in its shell and lie right where the place it happens to be. I couldn't want to be Clam. Would you?

This being true, Jerry Muskrat knew that some one had taken it. He suspected Peter Rabbit because Peter was the only person who had been in the neighborhood. That Peter might want of it he didn't like the least idea unless he wanted it to tease him. Peter suspected Mrs. Jerry or some other Muskrat. Mrs. Jerry could think of no one but a Muskrat who could want a Clam or could open it if it was wanted.

Mrs. Jerry indignantly said that she hadn't been near the spot and Jerry's nose told him that this was true. It also told him that no other Muskrat had been there, but that Peter Rabbit had. Peter admitted this but was just as indignant at being thought to have touched that Clam as Mrs. Jerry was when Peter hinted that she might have taken it.

So there was a falling out between old friends and Peter left in a huff. How small a matter can break the bonds of friendship! Jerry and Mrs. Jerry went back to work. They were making their house out in the water ready for winter and not even the mystery of the lost Clam was important enough to keep them from the work that must be done.

There had been two Clams left on the shore for Mr. Sun to open. The one left was still closed. Jerry started to make sure of it by opening it himself, but Mrs. Jerry called to him to come to work so he left the Clam where

It was. Probably jolly, bright. Mr. Sun would have it open soon, anyway.

Peter Rabbit didn't go very far. He couldn't forget the mystery of that lost Clam. It bothered him. Curiosity thrives on mystery. The more Peter thought about the matter the more curious he became. He just couldn't keep away from the Smiling Pool and the neighborhood where the lost Clam had been and the other still was. However he was careful to keep out of Jerry Muskrat's sight. If Jerry should see him he would be sure to think he, Peter, was watching for a chance to take that other Clam.

"I wonder what he thinks I would do with it if I did take it," muttered Peter. "I wouldn't take his old Clam if he would give it to me. I still think a Muskrat took that other. I can't think of any one else who would want it unless it is Bobby Coon. But he couldn't be over here in broad daylight. If he had come he would have left footprints in the mud and there aren't any. I've looked all around the Smiling Pool. Perhaps Uncle Billy Possum likes Clams. However, I don't know."

and everything. But I'm sure he hasn't been around either. I'll just keep looking around. Perhaps I may find something.

Meanwhile Jilly, round, bright Mr. Sun kept right on shining on that Clam on the bank. The Clam began to feel uncomfortable. It felt more and more uncomfortable. It felt so uncomfortable that it was made ill. It no longer hid its shell tightly closed; it didn't have the needed strength. The longer it lay there the less strength it had. The shell opened a bit. This let in warm air instead of the cool water it was used to. The more that shell opened and the worse that Clam felt. There was nothing it could do about it, not a thing. It was helpless. It couldn't even close the shell again. It didn't have the strength.

At last Jerry Muskrat came. At once he saw that Mr. Sun had opened that Clam just as he had known he would. Jerry didn't even say thanks. He pulled that shell wide open and ate the Clam. And that was that.

Also appearing on the program will be Arthur Pettit, director of public relations at the college and secretary of the national alumni association.

Musical selections for the program will be played by Miss Joan Ruddle and Rob Roy Crumrin. Reservations for the dinner should be sent to Kibler as soon as possible.

Tucker avenues Lines will also soon be laid to the new construction on Plum avenue, Post street and along Wall street. Adkins said.

Enters Plea Of Innocence
James Howe, alias James H. Howard, 30, of Cleveland, pleaded innocent in municipal court today to a charge of attempted breaking and entering, and the case was continued until next Friday.
Howe was picked up yesterday by Cleveland police on suspicion in connection with the attempted burglary of the office of the Quality Coal company in Shiloh last Saturday night.
The attempt by three men to enter the office was interrupted by the approach of Harry Garrett, owner of the company, and his son, Alvin. An automobile and burglars' tools were found abandoned near the office.
Howe was arrested when the automobile was traced to him. Howe told Cleveland police that the car had been stolen, and asserted that he had not been in this area.

SPLIT ON SIX CONGRESSIONAL SEATS LIKELY

Neither Side Too Confident Despite Strong Claims Made By Both.

By H. H. DAUGHERTY
COLUMBUS, (AP)—Republican and Democratic campaign managers are making great claims of congressional gains in Ohio, but privately some leaders on both sides admit they would be satisfied if they hold their present line-up—17 Republicans and six Democrats.

In three districts incumbents seeking re-election—two Republicans and one Democrat—won their seats two years ago by margins well under 5,000 votes. In two other districts Republicans won by just over 5,000. The at-large race was won by only 6.2 per cent.

In the Sixth district, mostly rural, Republican Edward O. Mooney won in 1944, by 3,117. His opponent this year is Franklin E. Smith. The district always is considered wobbly.

Republican incumbent Homer A. Ramey of the Ninth (Toledo) district won two years ago over former Rep. John F. Hunter by 5,042 votes. This year Ramey has for an opponent Toledo's vice mayor, Michael V. Disalle, a smooth and popular politician.

Republican incumbent Walter E. Brehm of the 11th district won by only 5,165 two years ago. His Democrat opponent this year is Lester S. Reid, virtually a newcomer in politics. The district is not traditionally Republican, but the GOP claims it.

Democrat incumbent Walter B. Huber of the 14th district won its seat two years ago by defeating the Republican incumbent, Ed Lowe, by only 2,625 votes. Huber's opponent this year is Fred W.

Danner, a former newspaper printer and now a printing executive. Anything can happen.

Republican incumbent P. W. Griffiths won two years ago in the 15th rural district by 15,954. His opponent this year is former Congressman Robert T. Secrest, who resigned his seat to accept a navy commission. Secrest won his last election in 1940 by a plurality of 17,126. Democrat leaders voice high hopes of staging a comeback.

Republican incumbent Earl R. Lewis won his last election in the 18th district by the slender margin of 2,79. His opponent this year is Eugene A. Blum. This is a coal mining district, and the miners' votes are uncertain.

Congressman-at-large George H. Bender of Cleveland won two years ago by a plurality of 180,000. Unless the entire state swings heavily to the Democrats, Bender would appear to be tagged for re-election over William M. Boyd.

Airborne Service Limited by Army

Choice of army airborne service is to be limited, effective immediately, to individuals enlisting or re-enlisting in the Regular Army for a period of three years. Master Sgt. Daniel DeSalvo, of the Mansfield Army recruiting station, said today.

This action was taken due to the gigantic task of short-term enlistments that filled the quota for this service, almost immediately, and the desire of the Army to fill the ranks of these specialized divisions with men who intend to stay in the Army for three or more years, DeSalvo said.

The 82nd Airborne division, now in the United States, and the 11th Airborne division, at present taking part in the South Pacific campaign, offers these enlistment for three years exciting and adventurous life combined with extra pay, DeSalvo pointed out.

A private in a paratroop outfit (on jump status) receives a base pay of $125 a month in addition to the other advantages offered all Army enlistees.

DESTRUCTIVE BOYS ORDERED TO STAY HOME

Accused of filling a car's gasoline tank with water and smashing a half bushel of tomatoes against it, six Mansfield boys today were serving out a week's sentence, confined to their homes. All admitted their guilt.

The boys, 15 and 16 years old, were ordered to juvenile court by police who reported they maliciously damaged a 1934 model car owned by Sam Harris, 400 Overlook road.

Juvenile Court Judge Stuart H. Cramer ordered the group confined to their homes after school hours. If found on the street they'll be picked up by police and placed in the detention home.

In addition to putting water in the gas tank and tossing tomatoes at the car, police also said they wet down its upholstery, destroyed its dome light and tore out the upholstery around the light.

Officers said that Mrs. Harris, who filed the original complaint against the group, refused to file charges against the boys after they had been ordered to court.

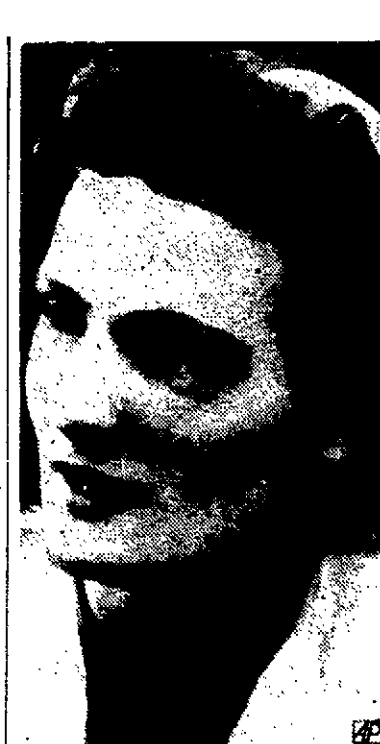

Two of the 15-year-olds live on Ruth avenue; one lives on Bigelow road. The 16-year-olds live on Davis road and Gibson and Ruth avenues.

Tax Revenue Still Growing

Sales tax receipts for the week ending Oct. 19, in Richland county nearly doubled revenue for the corresponding week last year, a report released by State Treasurer Don H. Ebright, showed today.

Receipts for that week this year amounted to $24,219.45 as compared with $12,729.92 for the same week last year.

Receipts so far in 1946 total

Impressive Ceremony Opens Centennial of St. Peter's

he proceeded directly with the consecration.
The first step was the anointing of the altar table with Gregorian water, a prescription of water mixed with ashes, salt and wine. This special water, used in consecration since the days of Pope Gregory the Great (590-604), was used to give the altar its first preparatory purification. First the bishop, dipping his thumb into the Gregorian water traced a cross on the middle of the altar table and on each of the four corners. Special prayers accompanied these acts.
He next walked around the altar seven times, sprinkling it with Gregorian water, and reciting a suitable Psalm. According to the liturgy of the Catholic church, the number "seven" in Sacred Language typifies fullness and perfection.
March to Shrine.
Following this ceremony, the bishop, the clergy and attendants, then marched in procession to a small shrine on the side of the church where the relics of Sts. Lucens and Gaudiosus were kept in a silver case.
In the liturgy of the church, the altar symbolizes Christ, and the relics of the saints are deposited there to indicate that the Saints are united and incorporated with Christ in Heaven.
With great solemnity the relics were carried by the bishop in a procession through the church and up into the Sanctuary, where they were placed on a small table with lighted candles on either side.
He then anointed the cavity or sepulchre of the altar where the relics were to be enclosed with a specially blessed olive oil called Holy Chrism. After that the slab or the cover of the sepulchre was anointed. Bishop Alter then placed the case of relics in the cavity and using a specially blessed cement, sealed the cover to the sepulchre. In the meantime, he intoned prayers while the choir chanted the responses.
Altar Anointed.
Following the deposit of the relics, the altar was anointed with a special blessed oil used in consecrating altars.
In explaining why the altars of St. Peter's church had never been consecrated before, Msgr. Goebel said that Church law forbids the consecration of an altar in a church on which there is a debt.
"While our church debt has been paid off for a number of years," the pastor continued, "we have been awaiting the proper occasion to conduct the consecration service. We decided the Centennial celebration was the right time."

Tomorrow a solemn requiem mass is scheduled at 8:15 a. m. for the deceased priests, sisters, men and women of St. Peter's. Msgr. Goebel will officiate with Rev. Timothy M. Downey, deacon; Rev. Virgil Riedinger, sub-deacon; and Rev. William Conces, master of ceremonies.
On Sunday at 11 a. m. the Centennial Pontifical High Mass will be celebrated by Bishop Alter. Bishop Michael J. Ready of Columbus, a former member of St. Peter's Church, will preach the Centennial Sermon.
The four-day program will end Sunday evening when Bishop Alter is scheduled to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to a class of 125 adults and 300 children. The Confirmation ceremony will start at 7:30 p. m.
Following services this morning, a luncheon for all visiting clergy was scheduled in the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 1:30 p. m.

RALPH LONG SON DIES AT BIRTH
Larry Kenneth Long, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph K. Long of Sunset boulevard, died at birth yesterday afternoon at General hospital.
Besides the parents, he is survived by a sister, Helen; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Long, and the maternal grandfather, Harvey Beeler, all of Mansfield.
The body was removed to the Wapner funeral home. Services will be conducted by Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church, Sturday at 9:30 a. m. at the grave in Mansfield cemetery.

Mrs. Richardson died at her home Thursday at 10:40 a. m. after an illness of a year.
Surviving are three children, Clyde Richardson, and Mrs. C. W. Tuber, both of Galion; and Mrs. W. E. Taylor of east of Galion; twelve grandchildren, three great grandchildren, and a

2 AUTOS CRASH INTO CULTIVATOR

Sheriff's officers today were searching for the owner of a cultivator which apparently fell off a wagon on State Route 95 near Butler last night. Two automobiles crashed into the piece of machinery, but no one was injured.
L. H. Miller, of Butler, ran into the plow about 7:30 p. m. one and one-half miles northeast of Butler. The car was slightly damaged.
Earlier, the sheriff's department, reported, a car driven by Harold Hall, Bellville, R. D. 2, also struck the cultivator, with slight damage to the car.
Sheriff's deputies said neighbors in the area reported observing a wagon load of farm machinery passing on the road, and reported the wagon broke down.

GUILD'S CHOICE AMONG BOOKS NOW AT LIBRARY

Top Selection of Month
Ready for Patrons
On Saturday.

The literary Guild's choice for November is B. F.'s DAUGHTER by John Marquand, to be released Saturday at the Mansfield Public Library, in which Marquand chooses a woman for the first time as the central figure of his novel.

It is the story of Polly Fulton, beautiful and brilliant daughter of Burton Fulton, industrial tycoon, who uses the inherited strength of her father for her marriage to Tom Brett during World War II.

Also high on the list of new books is one which should be familiar to those who have followed the Whiteoak family of Canada. RETURN TO JALNA by Mezo de la Roche opens in the fall of 1943 and follows the return of the four brothers from war service back to civilian life.

IDOLS OF THE CAVE by Frederic Prokosch is a modern love story set against the background of New York Society. Its hero is Jonathan Ely a young architect, long absent in Europe who returns to America in 1940.

DUSTY SPRING—Seifert.
AND ANSWER NONE—Covert.

AS HE SAW IT is Elliott Roosevelt's account of what he saw and heard at the great international conferences to which he accompanied his father: The Atlantic Charter meeting, Casa Blanca and Teheran. It recounts not only the public events, but also private conversation between the late president and his son.

THE JCE MAN COMETH by Eugene O'Neill recently opened on Broadway. It is a long play with its setting in that waterfront saloon first made famous by O'Neill's Anna Christie. Its characters are the regular patrons of the place.

GREAT CHALLENGE by Louis Fischer is an important addition to the literature on current affairs. It deals chiefly with Russia and Russia's place in the modern world. The challenge is the challenge to keep the peace.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE—Peters.

HOW TO BUILD CABINS, LODGES AND BUNGALOWS—Popular Science Monthly.

Council Members Hear Film Plea

Mansfield PTA Council members were called into special meeting today at 1:30 p. m. in John Simpson auditorium to hear in appeal for support of the Children's Film Library.

Scheduled speakers for the films were Donald Jacobs, Ohio theater manager, who will show the first of the films, "Juvenile Joy Shows," Nov. 9 in a special Saturday morning session at the Ohio.

"All the films, produced for the library, are hand-picked by a nation-wide poll of PTA groups," Jacobs said. "The local PTA's have expressed their interest in these films in the past, and I am seeking cooperation of the Council, itself, to help make the showings a success."

Barclay On Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

IT IS ALL well and good to follow the advice of experienced players and count up your tricks to see just where you expect to get the nine needed for a No rump game. But your counselors ever expected you to go after the first nine tricks you are able to count. After spotting the necessary number, a declarer should look over the rest of his hand and dummy and see if there isn't some other way to produce enough tricks, possibly one which does not entail as great risk of the opponents scoring five before you can cash the nine.

Mansfield Veteran Heads Amvet Post

Thomas Hicks, 21-year-old navy veteran of Mansfield, has been elected commander of the recently organized Harry E. Gossard Amvet post on the Ohio Northern university campus, the university reported today.

C. P. Sellers of Loudonville, will serve as vice-commander.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hicks, 79 Vennum avenue, Hicks was discharged from service last December after 42 months' service with the navy in the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. He is a first year pre-law student.

Among the charter members of the organization is John Sears of Bucyrus.

Some players would criticize West for his opening, saying he did not have "two and a half honor tricks" with his five-card suit. But better bidders would consider that the side Q, J-10 and J would average better than one K on the defense, to say nothing of the extra value of having that Q under the diamond A-K. Passing a holding that good can cause a pass-out when your side has a good play for game.

South led his heart 10. East, a speed merchant, read that quickly as indicating at least four, including the 9 and one other honor not the J, and therefore the K. Also, after seeing this assured him two tricks in hearts, he added on five for diamonds and noted that spades could not help setting up for the two others he required to make game. So he quickly scored the heart Q and led the spade J. North played the K and returned the heart 5 to the S. East holding up. He then took the K with his A on the third heart and led the spade Q. North won with the A, led the club 3 to the A, and the heart 9 set the contract.

Just a little more looking around by East would have shown him that the two tricks requiring promotion could have been gained in clubs as well as spades, without having to lose the lead twice to the defenders. Leading a club to the second trick would have made his contract ironclad, no matter what the opponents did.

Navy Recruiters Go To Columbus

Mansfield's naval recruiting station will be closed all day Saturday, but will open as usual at 8 a. m. Monday, Chief J. T. Daley said today.

The Mansfield recruiting staff will attend recruiters' meeting and dinner in Columbus. There will be a discussion of general recruiting plans for the new territory taken over by Columbus and Mansfield stations under a recent reorganization, Daley said.

Smoking is forbidden in the UN council hall—so as not to increase the haze, perhaps.

This is the spot in the campaign for confident claims by both sides—and, fortunately, there is an adequate supply of salt from which to take a grain of with.

It was Alexander Pope who put it thus: "Of forms of government let fools contest; whatever is best administered is best"—which seems particularly appropriate at the moment.

Those Lost 'Man-Days' of Work

ASSUMING that most people prefer to work rather than to be idle, revelation that strikes cost the nation 98,224,000 "man-days" of production during the first nine months of this year serves as a serious indictment of methods provided for amicable adjustment of labor-management disputes.

This is particularly disconcerting at a time when full production is urgently needed to restore a balance between supply and demand, and when prices have been shooting upward at an alarming pace because of scarcities.

Resort to the strike weapon as intermediate procedure in reaching wage agreements between employees and employers became more frequent immediately after the war ended but did not gain full volume until early this year, when controversies became more bitter, picketing activities more aggressive and settlements more difficult.

With the future of this country, and the welfare of its people, so closely linked with labor-management accord, it appears that sounder approach to solution of that difficult problem has become a matter of first importance. Or is such an accomplishment too much to expect of human beings at their present level of intelligence?

Dissatisfaction To Influence Votes

ACROSS THE NATION there is a general feeling that the Republicans are due to make substantial gains in congress at the election next Tuesday. Whether the GOP actually wins control of the lower house or merely increases its minority, that party is facing a new challenge. How well the challenge is met will be decided in the presidential election of 1948.

The task is one of leadership. Can the Republican party show the way to a sound economy? Can it give management a fair break and still get along with labor? Can it formulate a clear-cut foreign policy so that not only other peoples but the American people, too, will know where they stand?

It is not a question of the Republicans being able to produce a spectacular national idol. It is scarcely a question of the party being able to come up with an outstanding administrator, although there are certainly several of them already in the senate.

But it is definitely a question of whether or not the GOP leaders can get together on their thinking and planning. Can they lay out a program which will give all Americans a fair chance economically and politically, and can they pursue that program with reasonable harmony?

—It now appears that the time has come for a change and that Republicans are again to be given a chance to show what they can do. There will be hope that they can succeed in bettering conditions which have become intolerable. Yet, it is perhaps well to remind them that they face fully as big a job as the Democrats did in 1932. To put it mildly, bureaucrats and radicals in positions of trust have put the country in a mess. But we won't get out of the mess simply by yammering about someone else's mistakes.

One Thing That Mansfield Lacks

WHILE MANSFIELD need not look up to any city of comparable size in the attractiveness of its homes, versatility of its business and industry, and general intelligence of its citizens, this city has to feel ashamed when it notes what others are doing for their youngsters.

Nearby Lima, for example, boasted 30 playground softball teams last summer. Mansfield had two. Lima, Canton and Norwood—to name only three Ohio towns—have full time recreation supervisors paid by the city. Mansfield had no such supervisor.

There is no justification at all for this backwardness in Mansfield recreation. The city has leaders, public spirit, and facilities. One thing is needed to put them to work and to give the city a program it can be proud of. That item is money. The way to get it is to pass the two-tenths of a mill levy. Vote FOR the levy next Tuesday.

Heavy Strain On College Teachers

TEACHERS in men's colleges are carrying a heavy load these days. They are facing classrooms crowded to the four walls, with some students standing. They are lengthening lectures and lecture periods in order to take care of the mass of students. Worst of all is the after-class burden of marking and preparing examination papers, reading topics and themes and trying to schedule personal conferences with individual students.

The faculties of men's colleges are among the most overworked groups in the United States today. While it will not rest their bodies or brains, it may inspire their souls to reflect that this is their war contribution. Immediate war demands are over for most citizens, but these faculty members are now in the thick of their war service.

Akron's anti-gambling crusade has reached the point of ordering out all punchboards and football pools . . . with the gambling fraternity gasping: "What are they trying to do? Put us out of business?"

The rumor has been revived that Toledo is to have a new union depot—the sort that used to be heard about Mansfield in the early days of the century.

Paper shortage is holding up production of some of the new fiction—which causes someone to ask: "Is that bad?"

Claude Callan has an idea that "the best way to get rid of wickedness is to work it out in perspiration."

U. S. Firms Are Again Flirting With Nazi Big Business Leaders

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—If President Truman had read the Rogge report on Nazi tie-ups with high-up Americans, he might well have saved John Rogge's dismissal from the justice department.

For, in reading the report, he probably would have compared it with certain things which are happening between Americans and Nazis today.

One of the most serious handicaps to U. S. war preparedness was the business tie-ups between American and German firms. I. G. Farben's monopoly agreement with Standard Oil of New Jersey prevented the United States from developing synthetic rubber and kept the American public without rubber tires for four years.

The monopoly between the Aluminum Corporation of America and I. G. Farben kept magnesium away from the American aircraft industry and retarded our production of airplanes. Bausch and Lomb's secret agreement with Carl Zeiss was extremely detrimental to the U. S. navy on submarine sights.

Today, however, some interesting things are happening in Germany all over again. Among the first Americans to arrive in Germany after V-E day were three vice presidents of International Telephone and Telegraph. One of them, K. E. Stockford, was even dressed in a U. S. army uniform. The other two were Mark Sandsturm and Frank Page.

Nazi Business Comeback

Significantly the men they conferred with were Baron Kurt von Schroeder, the big Nazi banker, who financed Hitler, and Dr. Gerhard Westrick, the Hitler agent who came to the United States in 1940 to urge American business leaders, including I. T. & T., to keep the United States neutral. These two powerful Nazi figures were not then prisoners but lived in a German castle—thanks to their friendship with American big business.

All this happened just after the end of the war.

Now to get the significance, you have to study the suppressed Rogge report to see what happened at the start of the war. President Truman obviously intends that this report shall stay suppressed, but this column has obtained a copy and is able to publish Westrick's own version of his attempt to prevent the United States from aiding the Allies.

It will be remembered that Hitler's whole strategy was to bring all of Europe to its knees before lethargic U. S. public opinion could realize what was happening.

To this end Dr. Westrick was sent to the United States. The Rogge report tells the rest of the story.

"Westrick was well equipped with money," according to the testimony of von Strempel, secretary of the German embassy in Washington. "He could use funds a double way. He had a dollar fund and he said he could influence prominent businessmen through unfreezing their blocked credits in Germany."

"According to Thomsen (Nazi ambassador in Washington), Westrick received a salary from the embassy of about $3,000 a month."

Westrick's Own Story.

"This is Westrick's own account of his trip," continues the Rogge report.

"I was a Berlin lawyer. My most important connection with American business was with International Telephone and Telegraph company, whose president was Col. Sosthenes Behn. Behn was also a director of Standard Elektricitats Gesellschaft (Westrick was president of this company) which was affiliated with International Telephone and Telegraph company."

"I also represented the Underwood Elliott-Fisher company by the name of Mercedes Bureau-maschinen A. G.; the Eastman Kodak company which owned the Kodak A. G.; the International Milk corporation which owned a subsidiary in Hamburg, and various others.

"In 1939 I had a talk in Berlin with Secretary of State Keppler and Col. Sosthenes Behn. This discussion took place before September 1939. At the end of 1939, Keppler phoned me and told me that I should see Ambassador Dieckhoff, who had been the German ambassador in Washington, and discuss my going over to the United States."

"I told Dieckhoff that I could not make a decisive answer before discussing the matter with Col. Behn. I then saw Col. Behn either at The Hague in Holland or maybe in Belgium at Antwerp. I am not sure about this, but I think it was The Hague. I told Behn about the plan. Coming back to Berlin, I told Dieckhoff that I was willing to do the job. A few days later I had an interview with Ribbentrop himself."

"Thereafter, I left Berlin and went to San Francisco by way of Siberia. From San Francisco I went to New York. My talk with Ribbentrop was at the end of December 1939, or in the first days of January 1940. Among those I saw in the United States were Torkild Rieber of the Texas company, Eberhard Faber of the Faber company, James Mooney of General Motors, and Edsel Ford. I first saw Edsel Ford, and when I got to New York, I got a phone call from the secretary of Henry Ford asking me to come again to see Henry Ford."

Keep U. S. Neutral.

"I paid Mooney (of General Motors) a visit and one day he came to visit me in the Waldorf Astoria, and on his own initiative he told me that he and a group of other people had the intention of seeing the president and trying to convince the president that he should insist on normal political relations between the United States and Germany. This was after Germany had invaded France, Belgium, and Norway. Mooney said:

"Our idea is that Germany, as well as England, should just state exactly what their aims of the war would be and then the United States could decide to enter the war or stay out of the war, or even to try to come to some understanding between the belligerent nations."

"I asked Mooney: 'Why do you tell me this? I can't do anything.' He said: 'You have to go to the German charge d'affaires and we cannot do that because he is a German official.'"

To all this Rogge adds: "The collaboration between German and American industrialists is beyond the scope of this report. However, it is not inappropriate to remark that one of the documents in the hands of Justice Jackson's staff is a copy of a letter from Westrick to Sosthenes Behn, written after the Nazis overran Czechoslovakia, in which Westrick proposes the division of the assets of a Czechoslovakian company."

Note—President Truman might not only read the Rogge report but should also check into his Export-Import bank and ascertain why it has allotted 14 per cent of all its loans to International Telephone and Telegraph. That company, despite its flirtations with the Nazis, has received more government money than any other.

Survey Shows Children Are Desirable Tenants.

WASHINGTON—This is a bit of potted prose intended to excite babies from the charge of being bad tenants.

Regularly, this correspondent receives letters from home-hunting couples—usually veterans, I might add—who found they could not rent housekeeping rooms, apartments or houses because they had one or more children.

Almost as regularly, classified addressees that people without progeny probably will be more welcome as potential tenants.

Apparently the theory is that the dios of the diaper set do more household damage than those of their elders, and cause extra troubles, maintenance and repair costs.

Regretting for the moment the flouting of race-preservation principles in such a point of view, it can be admitted that if that theory were true, the childless landlords perhaps would have a point.

But now comes a champion of the children's cause with the word that's mostly malarkey. . . . Items that the Federal Public Housing Authority has gotten interested in the situation and conducted itself a survey. All in all, it wasn't such a terrific task, seeing is how the FPHA handles more than 173,000 units of public low-cost housing in these United States.

What they did was check on the damage done by renters and, much to the surprise of many disinterested witnesses, the survey took the larger right off junior and put it squarely on Ma and Pa.

It appears the young-uns really are respectable renters, as compared to their parents, and—on with the deals. . . .

In these thousands of home units (from which children are not banned) the survey disclosed seven major types of costly misuse and breakage on the part of tenants.

They were as follows:

Dress and frame—Damaged by carriages, bicycles and scooters.

Walls—Oil paint removed due to improper cleaning, defacing by children, grease spots and furniture marks.

Widows—Sills damaged by hot dishes and wet bottles, shades broken and fabric damaged by improper operation.

Flares—Finish removed by strong cleaning fluids, soaps and powders, and improperly washed.

Rages—Cooking units rusted through improper cleaning, cracked grates and clogged burners.

Refrigerators—Temperature control broken and trays damaged due to neglect and defrosting.

Plumbing fixtures—Enamel damaged by abrasives.

Even to a childless character such as this correspondent, it becomes completely obvious that only the first and one phase of the second of the aforementioned misdemeanors could be laid at the door of the little ones.

Furthermore, FPHA points out pertinently, "in both cases the damage is superficial and easy to repair." Also, most lease carry clauses making renters responsible for that sort of repair work.

With the other five points, it definitely is not so. Mostly, the damage is of a type extremely difficult to repair—and few leases leave the responsibility on anyone other than the landlord.

Alas, a study of those five dominant points definitely takes the jinx off Junior. Mostly (so states the FPHA) it is Mamma, with her understandably harried carelessness and ill-advised cleaning methods, who does the damage. Or else it's Papa with his lazy tilting on his chair against the wall, and his nearly forgetfulness about when he left that burning cigar or cigarette butt.

Of course, there are other complaints against children not covered by the national housing survey. Such things as walling in the wee, sma' hours, for instance.

But in that regard, this correspondent has taken the liberty of conducting his own private poll, and its results are well summed up in the words of one ancient Washington apartment-building resident.

"Look, son," he said, "I'd rather be kept awake by the squalling of the average brat than by the catenauling of some of these childless couples who pitch a party every other night!"

"At least," he added, "the baby probably has some cause for crying."

Until now the Democrats claimed foreign policy and only gave the Republicans the housing shortage.

Deep South Continues as "Problem Child."

WASHINGTON—The South's struggles to shake off the bonds of economic Bourbonism and to free itself from political methods and institutions that encourage boss rule and demagogism are re-echoing in numerous places here.

Involved was the old question of how much the federal government can, or should, do for the South, and how much the South must do for itself. The answers were varied.

Basically the South has lifted itself in recent years economically, due partly to the speed-up of industrialization by the war and the success of labor unions in organizing and improving the workers' lot.

Another outstanding contribution has been TVA.

One of the most encouraging developments in that direction was President Truman's appointment of Gordon R. Clapp, for many years general manager of that agency, to be chairman of TVA succeeding David Lilienthal, named head of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The president thus resisted pressure to put a politician at the head of TVA and assured its continuation as an independent, non-partisan agency, regionally operated. Under Mr. Lilienthal it was so successful that it has become the pattern for development of other U. S. river valleys and has been copied abroad.

Gordon Clapp is fully cognizant of the continued resistance by Mr. Lilienthal to the efforts of Senator McKellar (D. Tenn.) to use TVA for patronage purposes and to transfer financial control to congress and the senate appropriations committee of which Mr. McKellar is chairman. The senator feuded continually with Mr. Lilienthal and tried to prevent his reappointment last year.

Undoubtedly Senator McKellar will renew his fight, but Mr. Clapp will have the backing of President Truman who said the new chairman had demonstrated that he is "a formidable and resourceful fighter when TVA was under unfair attack."

By "unfair attack" it was inferred that the president included both the senator's activities and the continued attempts of private power interests to hamper TVA.

TVA promotes public welfare in the South by utilizing power and water resources to develop the land for the people. It offers hope in a time when political demagoguery again has raised its strident, defeatist voice.

Georgia got Gene Talmadge, one of the outstanding demagogues, back again after the state had begun to cleanse itself and stand once more for progress. Some Georgians sought the help of federal courts to outlaw the county-unit system whereby law election without getting the most votes.

The Supreme Court now has told them that Georgia must rid itself of this political institution on its own, which gives the folks of Georgia a quite a job. They might as well face it.

As far as the justice department is concerned, it is, in truth, rather thin law upon which it can inject itself into primary elections, though it has been done. Attorney General Tom Clark has pledged that he will seek a strengthening of the civil liberties statutes in the next congress.

Meanwhile, he has, however, announced he will lay before a federal grand jury evidence gathered by the FBI in the human lynching of four negroes at Monroe, Ga., which shocked the nation.

It is a bit hard for citizens generally to understand fine distinctions between state and federal government in the face of such crimes, since all are citizens of the United States.

"Protest Vote" to Be Strong In New York.

NEW YORK—The election campaign in New York is like a slightly stale routine. The actors, with one exception, are all veteran performers and they are offering nothing new in this current political season.

There is, of course, another reason why the show should hold something less than the rapid interest of the populace. The odds appear to be too heavy in favor of the Republicans.

Every straw in the listless wind shows that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will be re-elected by such a majority that he will sweep his running mate, Irving M. Ives, a newcomer in national politics, into the U. S. senate on the tide of victory.

The only fact that qualifies this is the heavy registration in New York City and in certain upstate industrial areas. Leaders of the three parties—Democratic, American Labor and Liberal—backing the Mead-Lehman ticket insist this means a small majority for their candidates when the votes are counted next Tuesday night.

But more impartial observers put a different interpretation on it. They believe it indicates a large protest vote which will be registered, for a wide variety of reasons, against the "ins" at Washington. The final registration in New York City, 2,175,000, is nearly 600,000 higher than the figure for 1942.

Here in New York state the manifold handicaps piled on a party long in power are particularly obvious. The Democratic candidates are weighed down with the burdens of the past 14 years.

That may explain why both R. and D. candidates are so much time talking about the past. The Republicans orate on the failures and mistakes of the New Deal. The Democrats tend to stress past glories associated with the symbol of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. From the general

Conspicuously absent in this race is Fiorello La Guardia with his demagogical energy and the glitter and flash of his hyperthyroid personality.

That La Guardia wrought miracles in pulling this city up by its bootstraps is becoming more and more apparent as the sag under Mayor William O'Dwyer becomes more obvious.

No glittering personality, no hyperthyroid energy are present in the current campaign. Those who talk about a return to normalcy may get more of it than they want before the pendulum of reaction has ceased to swing to the right.

Farmer's Diary: "Reynard Redfox."

DOWN along Greenwood trail I saw a full grown red fox come up the sandy, winding road that hugs the steep wooded bank of the Clearfork. It seemed his mind was on the line of pine and spruce needles near the ditch, for he neither saw nor scented me. As quietly as possible, I slid behind the trunk of a big maple and waited. The wind blew to my advantage, and I watched his slow approach.

Twenty feet away, beneath a thread of twigs and leaves the road plow had made, I saw him stop, sniff excitedly, dog-like, with one forepaw raised, then plunge his pointed nose through the soft waste and bring up a mouse which he gulped down with satisfaction. Quickly he was on the hunt for food again and nosed alertly through the layers of waste along the ditch until with a sudden bound, his active forepaws grabbed a clutch of twisted grass and inner bark between the rotting roots of an old chestnut stump.

I was only a dozen feet away and could hear the high-pitched squeak of the mouse, but her voice was cut off, for like the first victim she made only one satisfying gulp.

The fox nosed into the soft nest again. This time he drew out, one by one six wiggling infant mice, and swallowed each without it seemed, the slightest mastication. As I can testify, Sir Reynard was in no way concerned about the current meat shortage.

Even with my hiding place—not much more than two wheel-widths off—he seemed to have a slight suspicion of danger, and looked back across one rusty shoulder.

And for a second he stood like a statue, with pointed muzzle high—so near that I could actually see the supple nostrils quiver quickly to catch my scent. His thick furry flanks moved rapidly in and out, his long rusty brush with a white tip, trailed gracefully against the soft sand of the road. Then, with one leap, he disappeared, down the steep wooded bank.

Before he discovered my presence, I could hardly believe that a creature so near and so beautiful could be so wild. Here he was in broad daylight, seeking food—trusting to his own boldness and foxy cunning, his alert nose and his fleet grace of movement to outwit all adversaries.

Since history began, foxes have lived close to the dwellings of men, and in spite of concerted fox hunts, traps and poison bait, relentless hounds and pride of marksmanship, each year some still survive. In March or April, Sir Reynard may be found perched like a statue upon some lone rock or brush-curtained stump, where he guards the safety of his vixen and their little ones.

LAUSCHE HITS 'COLD-HEARTED' GOP PROGRAM

Claims Credit for Humanizing
Ohio Welfare Agencies In Mansfield Talk.

administration a welfare department devoid of mercy and humane compassion which should be the pillar of that department—in spite of the fact that in 1942 there was an unexpended balance of $52,000,000," Lausche said.

Cites Welfare Work.
"Materialism was the guiding rule of the welfare department in the Bricker administration. Wards of the state lived in dank and evil dungeons familiar to medieval times. In the past 22 months we have provided accommodation for 4,000 more mentally ill patients, reduced the working hours of those treating the sick, and brought sunshine and humane treatment to the unfortunate.

"We accomplished this in spite of deliberate attempts to block our progress. Overboard went the sick in the ride they (the Republicans) gave their political ambitions. But they failed and we are now on the road to win the applause of the nation in giving the mentally ill humane treatment."

Gov. Lausche also claimed his administration had given greater aid to the needy children of Ohio, the blind, the aged, the schools and the local governments.

"The most the former governor (Bricker) ever recommended for a school appropriation was $97,000,000. My recommendation was for $111,000,000 and the legislature went even beyond that figure," Lausche said.

The governor claimed the Republicans had "practically driven local governments into bankruptcy" by withholding revenue that should have been allocated to them. "There must be a new and fair distribution of funds to local governments," he said.

Senator Huffman, who arrived at the rally unexpectedly, talked briefly. He repeated his oft-spoken slogan of "advance with sound progress or retreat with reaction."

Draws Comparison.
"Compare the welfare of the people after 14 years of Democratic administration with that of 1932. In the former year 14,000,000 people were unemployed and the national income was $42,000,000,000. This year 58,500,000 persons are gainfully employed and the national income will be close to $170,000,000,000," Huffman said.

Purdy swung hard at his opponent for the congressional seat in the 17th district (J. Harry McGreggor), claiming that the GOP candidate would be "bossed" by his party leaders.

"My opponent claims I am a good Jeffersonian Democrat who nevertheless would be dominated by the federal administration if elected. I deny that as unwarranted. By making such a charge he admits that he is the one who would be dominated by his party leaders."

Issues Challenge.
"I challenge him to run on his record, which has been a long one of voting against selective service, against arming merchant ships, against veterans' housing."

"He even voted against the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill for emergency housing. In so voting he condemned the bill, co-sponsored by his own party stalwart, Senator Robert A. Taft, as radical and nearly Communist."

Introduced to the audience by Atty. John O'Donnell, former county prosecutor, were James T. Welsh, candidate for state treasurer; Harry M. Bowman, candidate for county representative to the Ohio legislature, and Lewis L. Rinehart, candidate for county commissioner.

Here's Harrington Statement on Airport

Following is the statement of J. R. (Bud) Harrington with reference to recent developments in connection with the Harrington Air Service, Harrington Manufacturing company, and the filing of an eviction suit in common pleas court today:

"After 13 years of work in connection with the development of the Mansfield Municipal Airport, I am now no longer connected with Harrington Air Service, Inc., or Harrington Manufacturing company, having recently resigned as president and director of both companies at the request of the new controlling interests."

"Approximately one year ago I began an expansion program to fit in with the development of our new airport, based on the coming requirements for scheduled airline service and personal aviation, which included a considerable addition to our old restaurant, modification of the largest hangar for aircraft overhaul shops, alterations to our No. 3 hangar for manufacturing space, and other miscellaneous improvements such as sewage system, water and electric power."

"The program was to involve $300,000 and the capital was to be secured by a Cleveland group within 60 days. I erred in starting construction prior to receipt of the money, and when the Cleveland group failed to produce, I was forced to seek immediate relief. Negotiations were developed with Robert Black of Mansfield who agreed to re-organize the company during March of this year, providing he and his associates got control, which involved reducing my interests to that of a minority stockholder. There being no other choice at the time, I agreed to the new arrangement and was hopeful it would be successful."

Resignation Asked.
"On Oct. 5, one of the Ohio Brass officials who was recently made a director of the aviation company came to my office at the airport and advised that he had written resignations prepared for the Air Service and Manufacturing company and that if I refused to resign, he was authorized to separate me from the company. I consequently resigned."

"The reason given for requesting my resignation or effecting my dismissal was that they were not satisfied with my management and that Mr. Black 'did not see eye to eye with me.'"

"Actually, the management was in the hands of an executive committee of Mr. Black and two other men (L. F. Hartman and Otis Cummins) he appointed, who met at the field twice weekly to set policies and control the companies. At no time did I have anything to do with the disbursing of the company's funds, as that was under the control of Mr. Black, who was treasurer of the companies."

"I left Harrington Air Service with orders on hand, or airplanes delivered this year, of approximately $1,250,000; and although I have never seen a profit and loss statement or balance sheet since the Blacks took over control, I understand Air Service has been operating at a profit this year, as we delivered approximately one half million dollars worth of aircraft."

"The Manufacturing Company, I understand, has been operating at a loss, although I saw only a June and July statement and that was furnished me only two weeks before I resigned."

Claims Two Hangars.
"Two of the largest hangars on the field were rented by the Air Service from my brother-in-law, Arthur Cornell of Shelby; and due to the failure of Air Service to pay the rent since last February, the leases have been terminated and the Black group were requested to vacate the premises as of Oct. 10. They have refused to move out of the hangars."

"Over a period of time I have personally acquired an interest in the two hangars along with Cornell; and, consequently, I have attempted to negotiate some form of settlement with the Black group, so as to be able to continue in business at the airport."

"In view of the fact that number 3 and number 7 hangars belong to us, we proposed that we immediately occupy number 7 hangar and that we would release number 3 hangar to the Manufacturing Company which now occupies that building, so as not to interfere with their manufacturing operations; and hangars number 1 and number 2 which are owned by Air Service could be utilized by them in connection with their aviation activities."

Harrington Discloses Dismissal

the Manufacturing company's operations and hangar Number Seven is occupied by overhaul shops."

"After 13 years, in connection with the development of the Mansfield Municipal Airport I am now no longer connected with the Harrington Air Service, Inc., or Harrington Manufacturing company, having recently resigned as president and director of both companies at the request of the new controlling interests," Harrington's statement said.

Details of Harrington's resignation will be found in a formal statement elsewhere in today's edition of the News-Journal.

Harrington said he understands that the Air Service branch has been operating at a profit this year, though the manufacturing operations have been operated at a loss.

He said the suit in common pleas court was begun today after company officials refused to move out of the hangars although they were requested to vacate.

HARRINGTON STILL MANAGER
Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said that there has been no change in Harrington's status as the city's airport manager.

"He is still the dollar-a-year technical advisor and resident airport manager under the direct supervision of the city services director," Vaughn said.

Harrington's appointment as airport manager was made without any time element other than the appointment and qualification of a successor.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, Nov. 2.

According to conflicting planetary configurations, the final outcome of the affairs and events of this day may be determined by a clever, shrewd, tactful and amiable plan of action, framed from right motives, restrained conduct and a conservative and analytical front in trying and unhappy situations.

An impulsive, reckless, extravagant and intemperate course in the face of strife and aggravation, would prove hazardous to cherished objectives. Excesses, waste, and indulgence in funds, energies, words and deeds, might exact severe penalties.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare to adopt a shrewd, reasonable, balanced and generous course of action, in the face of antagonism, obstacles, lack of proper appreciation and support or with definite provocations, aggravating and exciting. Indulgence in immoderation, impulsive comebacks and excesses and extravagance in words and deeds might jeopardize reasonable prospects. Sound judgment and good will should win out against false and difficult circumstances.

Schools Open Enrollment In Red Cross

The 8th annual Junior Red Cross enrollment began today by Mansfield and Richland county schools.

Mrs. Milo W. Hieber, enrollment chairman, expects between 12 and 13 thousand children to join in the service organization of the American Red Cross, she said today.

"Last year, we had 12,639 Junior Red Cross members, and I see no reason why our enrollment this year shouldn't reach the 13,000 mark."

The enrollment period, which extends through Nov. 15, will be supervised by teacher sponsors in every school in the county, working with Mrs. Hieber. There are 55 of these teacher-sponsors in Mansfield and the county and five in Shelby. They work together with other teachers in their schools, as in the case of rural schools, supervise only their immediate room-schools.

The Junior Red Cross is the only branch of the organization which depends entirely upon service for its membership. Each elementary school class room is assessed 50 cents, secondary school is assigned the quota of 10 for each 100 pupils or less.

The method of obtaining these amounts was explained by Mrs. Hieber. "No child can buy a membership in the Junior Red Cross. Each child must earn money through serving others. Whatever he earns may be applied toward the classroom fee. There is a set sum for each child. If my child is unable to earn more, he may be included in the classroom membership by doing small chores around the school room."

PUPILS ENROLL—Although it only began today, pupils were already enrolling in the 28th annual Junior Red Cross enrollment early this morning. Above, second graders at Carpenter school share enthusiasm for this branch of Red Cross work with the teacher-sponsor of Carpenter school, Mrs. J. J. Thoms. Left to right, are Mrs. Milo W. Hieber, general chairman; Claire Mast, Billy Keinert, who is getting his Junior Red Cross emblem, Mrs. Thoms, Carol Neal, Barbara Paul, Tommy Davis and Cheryl Martin. The latter four are placing articles in the educational boxes to be shipped overseas for foreign relief. (News-Journal staff photo.)

The goal this year, as always, is 100 per cent enrollment. The program as planned for this year will be integrated with the regular school curriculum. There are no outside activities. All may be correlated with the school work of each child.

Although the enrollment did not start until today, Junior Red Cross work has been going on since the beginning of school in September. The making of favors for Halloween for veterans' hospitals and the Mansfield hospital county TB sanatorium for New Year's trays. This fall first aid classes were started in the various schools by Fred Bardsley, water safety and first aid supervisor at the chapter house. So far 15 of these classes have been organized to work with the school program with an enrollment of 330 pupils.

About 1,200 educational boxes are being packed for overseas. Stuffed toys also will be made for overseas shipment. Each year the Junior Red Cross contributes to the National Children's Fund. Last year the Richland county branch of the Junior organization gave $1,113 to this fund, most of which is used for foreign relief.

An important new project is in the making for this year. It is the organization of a Junior Council in which pupils will participate by electing officers and sending delegates to a county-wide conference.

SLOWER BUILDING TREND CONTINUES

New building in Mansfield during October totaled slightly more than $200,000 as compared to more than $400,000 for each of the three preceding months, permit records showed today.

Only five new homes were started last month as compared to 26 in September and only two non-residential structures were launched as compared to 12 in September. A $150,000 commercial structure made the slump less critical than it otherwise would have been, boosting the total evaluation to $202,290 for October. That structure, plus a proposed new church and the five new homes accounted for the major share of the month's building. The balance included minor remodeling projects and garages. Contractors have seen in the sharp drop an indication that builders are concentrating on getting already-started structures "under roof" before winter.

WE COULDN'T KEEP THEM DOWN ANY LONGER

For nearly five years there hasn't been a single change in the price or quality of Richman Brothers suits, topcoats or overcoats, despite the fact that costs keep going up steadily all this time.

Now there are further advances in woolsens, trimmings and production costs. They have reached a point where we must either raise our prices or lower our standard of quality.

We do not believe in cheapening quality. We've never done it before. We will not do it now. The only way we can continue to give you the same fine all-wool materials and workmanship is by increasing our prices.

On and after Monday, November 4th, therefore, Richman Brothers standard quality suits and overcoats will be $26.50 and our super quality suits and overcoats will be $31.50. This is a $2 raise, the absolute minimum necessary to maintain our standard of quality.

At these prices, our values under present conditions are as outstanding as ever.

FALSE TEETH WEARERS! ACCEPT THIS GREAT FRIEND-WINNING INTRODUCTORY OFFER!

At Last! Amazing "Post-War" Brushless Powder

Cleans Your Plates Cleaner

Or You Get Double Your Money Back!

HERE'S YOUR OPPORTUNITY to try—at our risk—the proven Post-War Denture Cleanser that must clean your plates cleaner and give you extra protection against unpleasant "denture breath"; or you get double your money back! This remarkable denture necessity is called "OKaze"—because it "OKaze" your plates . . . and it "OKaze" your breath.

OKaze is based on a dentist's formula. And unlike most denture cleansers now on the market, it contains ingredients heretofore scarce or unobtainable. What's more, it's packed in a sturdy moisture-resistant Post-War metal container.

Keep your plates clean the OKaze way!

No matter what you've been using to clean your plates, you'll be delighted to discover how much more satisfaction your dentures give when you get them cleaned fresher, faster, and more "natural-looking" with OKaze. So, get a package of pleasant, easy-to-use, economical OKaze at any of our stores with this POSITIVE guarantee—You'll be completely thrilled with the results; or when you return unused portion, you'll get—not just your money back—but double your money back!

P.S. OKaze is especially "ideal" if you use a denture adhesive . . . for its fast dissolving action helps remove the paste that remains on plate surfaces.

Read what these grateful users say:

"I wouldn't be without OKaze because it cleans my plates so much cleaner and faster than the product I've used before."
P. O. D., Newark, N. J.

"I used to worry about denture breath; but since I began using OKaze I know I'm OK."
Mrs. S. M., Easton, Pa.

"My dentist recommended OKaze. And believe me I'm mighty grateful. Now get my plates fresh and clean so easily; and I'm no longer worried about denture breath troubles."
G. R., St. Joseph, Mo.

"I'm delighted with OKaze because it really cleans my plates cleaner than anything I've ever used before. What's more I'm so grateful for that fine metal container. My OKaze never lumps or cakes up in the can."
Mrs. L. T., Boston, Mass.

The above unsolicited comments are merely typical. But the important thing is not what OKaze can do for others—but what it can do for you. So act now! Get your big economical package of OKaze in any of our stores and discover for yourself how wonderfully it "OKaze" your plates—OKaze your breath!

"Denture breath" is often caused by fermenting food particles which become trapped in the mucin film as well as in the tiny crevices of your plates. OKaze's remarkable action dissolves this fermented food film and debris so that you can easily rinse it away. Thus OKaze helps assure you that you will not offend that your plates will be more "natural looking." So—today, step into any of our stores and get a package of OKaze with this positive guarantee—you'll be completely delighted with results, or you'll get double your money back!

OKaze is guaranteed by the makers of Staze

So Quick! So Easy! So Economical!

1. SOAK! For cleaner, fresher plates just soak in fast acting OKaze solution 10 to 15 minutes (or overnight).
2. RINSE! Rinse dentures under running water (preferably warm) before returning them to mouth.
3. ENJOY! Use OKaze! Be sure your plates are cleaner, more natural-looking—free from unpleasant "denture breath."

OFFICE PLANS FOR EXPANSION

Training Officer Outlines
Rapid Growth of Local Facilities.

Plans for the enlargement of facilities of the Mansfield Veterans Administration were discussed yesterday by Keith H. Barber, chief training officer of the local VA office. He spoke before the Kiwanis club in the Mansfield LeLand Hotel.

In a talk entitled "The Present and Future of the Veterans Administration as it Affects Mansfield," Barber traced the growth of the local office since its establishment here last fall.

From an initial start of one office and two persons servicing a potential of 12,000 to 15,000 veterans in five counties, the force has grown in a few months to a suite of offices, with 24 employees servicing about 27,000 to 28,000 veterans in 10 counties, he pointed out.

"Negotiations are now under way to obtain a lease on the top floor of the new Kroger building which will allow us the expansion necessary to include the additional services we hope to add to this office," Barber continued.

"We ultimately hope to have, in addition to the presently established contract and training departments, medical, dentists, pharmacists, insurance, supply, and voucher departments," Barber said.

"At present our biggest problem is the training program," he pointed out. "The large number of veterans involved, the fact that training programs have to be cleared with the State Board of Education which is understaffed, and the recent amendments to the G. I. Bill which have not all been clarified, give some idea of the problem faced."

"If our contemplated program goes through, the Mansfield area will have a complete veterans service as another asset to this progressive community," Barber concluded.

Max Worthley, program chairman, introduced the speaker after Dr. Harlin Knerim had been introduced to the club as a new member.

2 Lima Escapers
Caught by Police

TOLEDO — (AP) — Two of the three men who escaped from the Lima state hospital for the criminally insane last Monday night were captured here yesterday.

Harry Zabrusky, 31, and Jeffrey Thrasher, 30, were picked up by a New York Central railroad patrolman in a shanty on railroad property and booked on charges of failing to possess draft registration cards.

Woman, Too

COLESHILL, Eng. — (AP) — Irene Palmer, former member of the British ATS, lived 17 days with her "husband" before discovering that "he" was a woman, it was disclosed yesterday.

Miss Palmer told of her disappointment yesterday in court. She said the "bridegroom," Ellen May Young, wrote several love letters and then proposed. They were married Sept. 7.

Prosecutor C. C. Ladds charged Miss Young with making false statements to obtain the marriage license.

"Miss Palmer," he said, "is a typical country girl who had not had much to do with men."

THIS NEW BROOM
SWEEPS LEAVES

Mansfield has turned over a new leaf in its leaves-gathering program this year. Street Supt. C. H. Hebel reported today.

Two machines—one a gianttic broom, the other a "king size" shovel—combine to speed the collection of tumbling fall colors from city streets.

The city used to pick up only two truckloads of leaves a day, but the machines have boosted the total to 24 loads, the superintendent said.

The broom, purchased several months ago, has a special attachment for leaf-sweeping. It pushes them into a pile and the "shovel," normally used for picking up snow, tosses them into trucks.

WHO SHALL CONTROL
THE POLITICAL POWER OF THE PUBLIC PURSE?

The secret of Democratic political success since the advent of the New Deal is the CONTROL OF PUBLIC FUNDS—those PUBLIC OFFICIALS who control APPROPRIATIONS for political jobs.

Facts show that during election years the New Deal payroll is much greater than off-election years. That is why today we have so many on the Federal Payroll and once they become attached—nothing will get them off—EXCEPT A REPUBLICAN VICTORY. They are not on the public payroll because they are needed—THEY ARE ON THERE FOR THE VOTES THEY PRODUCE—IN OTHER WORDS TO WIN ELECTIONS.

The Federal payroll since V-J day has increased 154,000 employees. The New Deal Branch office payroll at Columbus has been increased nearly 10,000 by the present Democratic Governor.

THE PAY ROLL VOTE

In the Judgment of experts the important factor in American elections is not the labor vote, or the farmer vote, or even that of business. IT IS THE VOTE OF THE FEDERAL EMPLOYEES OF WHOM THERE IS CLOSE TO 3,000,000. We are of the opinion that we have already in the federal establishment a bureaucracy with SUFFICIENT STRENGTH TO PERPETUATE ITSELF IN OFFICE.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer—10/29/46)

HOW MUCH LONGER ARE THE TAXPAYERS GOING TO STAND FOR SUCH CORRUPTION IN GOVERNMENT—DELIBERATELY PADDING THE PUBLIC PAYROLLS IN ORDER TO PERPETUATE THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN POWER—USING PUBLIC MONEY TO FURTHER THEIR OWN PERSONAL POLITICAL INTEREST. THIS IS THE WHY OF HIGH TAXES. This is the reason why you should vote for:

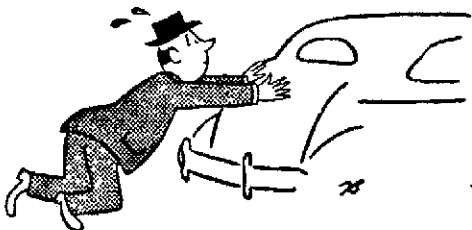

John W. Bricker For United States Senator
J. Harry McGregor For U. S. Congressman
Thomas J. Herbert For Governor
John L. Catlett For County Representative
Cyrus L. Shoup For County Commissioner

Because these offices control public appropriations and BECAUSE THESE REPUBLICAN OFFICIALS WILL STOP THE RAPE OF THE FEDERAL, STATE AND COUNTY TREASURIES FOR POLITICAL REASONS.

You've probably figured your present car won't have to last much longer.

We hope you're right. For our part, we're doing our best to get those grand new Packards to our customers.

• You know the situation

But, like every other motor car manufacturer, Packard is still struggling with parts and materials shortages.

This year, the industry as a whole has been able to build only 44% of its output for the same period in 1941.

Packard has done better than that, but we'd like to put in a word of caution:

It may be some time yet before you get behind the wheel of your new car.

• Don't take a chance!

Make sure your present car keeps rolling. Test your car with this easy quiz.

If you find any of these symptoms, bring your car in for a quick check-up.

Lots of cars are lasting longer and running better because our expert mechanics are trained to nip trouble before it takes hold!

Winterize Now!

These days, it's doubly important to beat winter to the punch. Bring your car in early for a thorough check-up of your battery, electrical system, and cooling system—as well as pre-winter lubrication and engine tune-up. The last-minute rush will be terrific—and the first cold snap may damage hard-to-get parts!

P.S. Fenders, doors, running boards—in fact, all body parts are scarce. Don't let rust eat them away. Our protective treatment will add to your car's life, appearance and value.

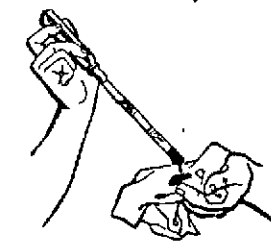

ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE

This home quiz can help you catch little troubles before they become big ones!

1. ENGINE:

Is smoke coming out of the exhaust? Are you using more oil than you used to? If "Yes," better have your piston rings looked at.

OK ☐ Needs Attention ☐

2. CLUTCH:

Can you push the pedal down 1" to 1 1/2" before the clutch starts to release? If the distance is less than that, you'd better have it adjusted.

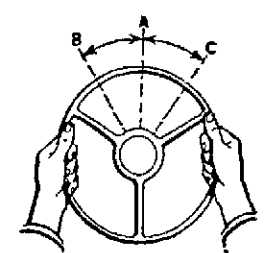

OK ☐ Needs Attention ☐

3. STEERING:

Measure amount of "free play" from "A" to "B" and from "A" to "C". Two inches or more indicates too much lost motion before wheels begin to turn.

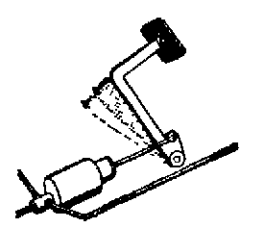

OK ☐ Needs Attention ☐

4. BRAKES:

Does your brake pedal travel more than one inch before any braking is felt—and at least one inch of pedal travel left after a full stop in 30 feet at 20 m.p.h.? If not, police will say they are unsafe.

WILLARD MAYOR
CITES HOSPITAL
ADDITION NEED

$100,000 Bond Issue Passage
Urged By Voters At Polls
Next Tuesday.

WILLARD — Outlining the urgent need for passage of the $100,000 bond issue next Tuesday to provide an addition to Municipal hospital, Mayor R. J. Vetter, recently appointed a committee headed by Ray Snook to present facts in the case to Willard's 5,000 citizens.

Presenting a 10-point outline of reasons for the proposed addition, Mayor Vetter emphasized that "only four private rooms are available for seriously ill patients on the first floor, and only 19 other beds for all other cases than maternity."

"All available beds have been in constant use, leaving no reserve for emergencies. No contagious cases can be admitted to the present hospital, and infirm and elderly people cannot be kept there for prolonged periods," the mayor said.

The Municipal hospital has served Willard on a non-profit basis without deficit, and unnecessary loss of life from a serious accident on or near the community could occur for lack of even emergency facilities, officials pointed out in supporting the proposed issue.

The present hospital bonds will be paid off by October, 1949 and the new addition would increase taxes only by 70 cents on each $1,000 of tax valuation—an average of about $5 a year for each family, Mayor Vetter declared.

HOLMES COUNTY
MAN ARRESTED
SIX DAYS AGO

"I Didn't Care to Reveal It," Sheriff Stanner Replies to Query.

MILLERSBURG — Charles W. Monticue, one of four candidates for sheriff of Holmes county, was in jail today on seven peace disturbance charges. He was arrested last Saturday night by one of his opponents in next Tuesday's election, Sheriff Wayne Stanner.

Monticue, a former tavern owner in nearby Winesburg, was arrested in a Winesburg tavern after an alleged disturbance, and faces three charges of pointing firearms, three of threatening in a menacing manner and one of carrying concealed weapons, the sheriff said.

Sheriff Stanner stated that the arrest followed filing of an affidavit by W. Price, owner of the Old Pine tavern, charging peace disturbance.

Monticue was assessed a total of $5,600 in bonds on the seven charges and, unable to raise bond, has been held in jail since Saturday.

The arrest and charges against Monticue was not disclosed until Wednesday, when Monticue was arraigned before Common Pleas Judge Elmo Estill. Monticue pleaded innocent to all charges.

Date of trial on the pistol pointing and threatening charges has not been set, Sheriff Stanner said. The seventh charge, that of carrying a concealed weapon, will be placed before the grand jury, he stated.

When asked in a telephone interview with the News-Journal why the arrest of his opponent in the sheriff race was not disclosed for four days, Sheriff Stanner replied:

"I didn't care to reveal it." He added that "there's an election up here, you know."

Monticue is campaigning for the office vacated by Sheriff Harry Weiss, who resigned last summer after he was charged with receiving money illegally from the county treasurer.

Weiss pleaded guilty to 32 counts in a grand jury indictment and was fined $320 and barred from holding office. Stanner was appointed sheriff for the remainder of the term.

Both Stanner and Monticue are Democrats. Two Republicans also are candidates for the sheriff's office. They are Clea Hoover, of Millersburg, and Ted Strutz, of Millersburg R. D.

CHILD TREATED
AGAINST RABIES

A four-year-old Olivesburg road boy is being treated for possible rabies infection following an attack by a dog thought to have the disease, health officials said today.

The dog was shot through the brain and killed after it had bitten the child about the face and arm, Dr. H. G. Kniernim, acting city-county health commissioner, said.

Dr. Kniernim warned against shooting possible rabid dogs through the head. Instead, he recommended that the animal be confined and health officials or Dog Warden C. H. Hill notified immediately.

He said shooting through the head hampers work of testing the dog's brain in order to determine whether it has rabies. "If the dog has to be shot, shoot it through the heart or body," he said.

GRANGE OF SHILOH

Fair Enough

NEW YORK — The New York Times presents a "message to all troops" in the Philippines, signed by three generals, Christiansen, commanding in the Western Pacific, and Eubank and Carroll, of the air forces, which is a piece of self-serving political cant, more likely to impair further than to repair the discipline and reputation of these American soldiers and their relations with the Filipinos.

A Times reporter had written that the Filipinos thought of the American troops as "brash, ill-mannered, slovenly and contemptuous children" and supported this opinion, attributed to the resident people, by descriptive matter which reflected as much on the responsible generals as on the soldiers, themselves, who were, he said, untidy, indifferent to laws and ordinances governing the civilians and, on the whole, no credit to their country or their uniform. There are reasons to believe that the reporter was right. Green soldiers are spiritually aimless kids these days who disappear into an army demoralized by the sudden absence of an enemy, by the slackness of officers who were only killing time until they should be paid off and by the propaganda against discipline and the "officer caste."

The parents of boys of appropriate age are justified in fears that clean, ambitious sons may become cynics and loafers.

"The commanding generals feel that we must tell you, our soldiers, that we believe this condemnation is unwarranted by the facts of our behavior and we resent this attack on you," the "message to all troops" says. "We recognize that you are not trained soldiers since it takes considerably more training than our country has been able to give you to make trained soldiers."

On Anything

WASHINGTON — (E) — You want to pick up a little easy change? Get a free ride to the capital? Have your hair cut gratis in a barbership de luxe? Telegraph your friends at no cost to yourself? Grab some spending money for the little woman and the kids?

Friends, this is it. Your chance to be a United States senator for the next two months, with all the —ahem—emoluments and none of the worries of lawmaking. All you've got to do is be a legal resident of California, Missouri, Nevada, Vermont or Washington. And, of course, vote for yourself next Tuesday.

It is a weird deal. Through a quirk in the laws of the land the office of one senator from each of these five states becomes vacant on Nov. 6. The Democrats didn't bother to nominate anybody for the jobs; neither did the Republicans. None of the bigwigs wanted to be temporary senators until Jan. 3, when the new congress convenes.

The field is open for anybody who'd like to be a senator for a couple of months, collect his salary, get his fare paid for the round trip, hire his own wife and youngsters for his office force, and take advantage of all the other luxuries accorded senators.

He needs only to write in his name on the ballot and get his friends to do some. The fellow with the most pals gets the job. A professional screwball and a radio announcer with itchy feet are trying to land the California senatorship. (I am in communication with these gentlemen and will report on them election day.)

OTHER CITY SLICKERS in the other states also are campaigning for these, the cushiest job in the government. Big pay, no work, a soft couch and all the free soda pop you can drink. If I weren't a voteless Washingtonian, I believe I'd run for the senate myself.

Each of the five winners gets 20 cents a mile for the ride to Washington. He receives $800 a month salary, the right to pay his

THE FIRST SENTENCE here is a transparent attempt by the three generals to put themselves in the position of bold defenders of troops who, they then admit, are unsoldierly, taking occasion to blame "our country" for their faults. The original criticism reflected as much on the generals who signed the "message" as on the individual GIs, because it is their duty, always, to do their best with the men and the materials given them and excuses, obviously addressed to the public, by way of the troops, are unseemly. If these soldiers slouch through the streets out of uniform, unshaven and uncombed, and with their clothing dirty, if they dash through traffic lights in army vehicles while the Filipinos police for their lives and the civilian police look on helplessly, those faults call for command, not apologetic-shining by the generals. This brave show of resentment against the "attack on you" is reminiscent of the propaganda of some of the A. F. of L. unions which converted into an attack on "labor" every disclosure of racketeering and organized crime-killing. Whether he knows it or not, a decent young man in the army is better off under good discipline and efficient officers, even though it means that he must look and act the part of a soldier. But even a stupid recruit will be deceived by an appeal to his sympathy by men who owe him a better job of management, although he may be disgusted. Troops can't make their own morale if the officers have permitted slackness to set in.

A few individuals may preserve their self-respect and observe decorum but only by a special effort and life in a bum outfit, commanded by a lazy, inept or just indifferent officer is much less pleasant than service in a well-run unit. (Copyright, 1946, King Features)

Partners have been assigned and rehearsals have started under direction of Mrs. Shirley Irving. The cast includes Judy Foster, a teen-age miss, Mary Esther Burke; Grace Moyer as Dora Foster, Judy's mother; Melvin Foster, Judy's father; Donis Patterson; Randolph Foster, her younger brother; Robert Shrimpling; Hannah, the maid; Norma Jean Taylor; Barbara Winsocket; Judy's friend, Beverly Sutherland; Oogie Pringle, Judy's boy friend; Charles Skemp; Mutzi Hoffman, another friend of Judy's; Joanne Polli; Mr. Martindale, a theatrical producer; Ted Miller; Mrs. Hotchkiss, the laundry woman; Lucille Grassman; Eloise Hotchkiss, her daughter; Marilyn Miller; Mrs. Shultzhammer; Joan Fair; Rexford O'Connor; Julius Blum; Susue, Sarah Chaney.

relatives to be his secretaries, and a big box of stationery with his name printed on it in blue, like this: Senator Joe Blow.

For the rest of his life he can insist on being called "senator." He'll have a luxurious office here for 60 days, with hot and cold running water and a couch good enough to sleep on.

The senate barbershop will fix him up with trims, shampoos, and facial massages on the house. He'll get free use of the official gymnasium and free dips in the senatorial swimming pool.

The government will pay for his telegrams within reason and he can mail all the letters he wants without postage stamps. He'll get fresh towels daily, an unlimited supply of mineral water, and a private elevator to ride in.

Odds are a thousand to one that he'll have nothing whatever to do. Only a special session of congress between now and next year would put him to work. He'd be sworn in as a senator then and he'd have to worry about the state of the nation. He might also be eligible for a pension; the experts still are pondering that one. May you enjoy yourselves in Washington, senators pro-tem, and don't forget your daily shoe shines; they're free, too.

Former Galionites
Have Ill Fortune

GALION — Residents of Galion learned recently of the serious illness and of an air accident of former Galionites. Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Ritz, through their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Inella Ritz, of Montgomery, Ala., heard that Lt. Stanley D. Ritz, their son, had been involved in a plane crash on Okinawa. He sustained second degree burns.

Charles Aplas, former resident, is in the Good Samaritan hospital, Lebanon, Pa., after being taken suddenly ill, his son, Robert Aplas, said. The father, a former vocational coordinator in Galion senior high school, was stricken while attending a convention at Williamsport, Pa.

SIMPSON SLAUGHTERS APPLESEED, 38-0

Tom Tucker Gets Three 6-Pointers

By BRUCE MCGINTY

A hard blocking, heavier and smooth functioning John Simpson football aggregation swamped an under-manned Johnny Appleseed eleven, 38 to 0, on rain-swept, muddy Stadium field last night before 4,200 grid fans.

Coach Bob Kennedy's Bulldogs had too much of everything for Coach Norm Henline's Pioneers and outplayed the Appleseed squad all the way.

Simpson had four touchdowns called back besides the six counters and two extra points that won the Bulldogs their fifth victory in seven annual city junior high school grid championship battles.

Scoring at will the Bulldogs took an early lead in the first period and were never threatened.

Tommy Tucker, fleet halfback, who played with his right hand in a cast, was the offensive standout.

He galloped for three touchdowns on runs of 65, 30 and 5 yards. Tucker's overall offensive record was 107 yards in 10 trips.

The victory enabled Simpson to conclude the 1946 grid campaign unbeaten. The Bulldogs won five games and tied one, Henline's aggregation had won four and tied one prior to last night's touchdown deluge. In 1945, the Appleseed gridgers rolled over Simpson 18-0.

Taking the kick-off on the Pioneer's 41 yard stripe, Simpson scored on the fourth play of the game. Ken McCally smashed through center for seven and Tommy Tucker, swept around right end for 18 yards.

With a first down on the Appleseed 17, Don Cline darted around right end for another first down on the 5, where Tucker smashed off tackle for the first score. Charlie Jenkins ran for the extra point.

Howard Tipper, Appleseed captain and Charles Marchant were the stellar ball carriers for the Pioneers but the Simpson forward wall was just too powerful.

Simpson rolled up 13 first downs to three for Appleseed and gained 365 yards to 63 for the Pioneers.

Mid-way in the first quarter Simpson hit pay dirt for the second time. Jenkins went off tackle for the score.

John Sazdanoff raced around end the next time Simpson took the ball and darted for a TD, but the score was nullified due to a clipping penalty. On the next play Don Cline faded back and threw an aerial to Ed Demyon. Bulldog end, who scored, only to have the play called back because of an unnecessary roughness penalty.

The Bulldogs added two more touchdowns in the second stanza on some beautiful running plays by Tucker and Sazdanoff. Tucker returned a Tipper punt 30 yards for his second TD and shortly after Sazdanoff intercepted a Tipper aerial and raced 47 yards for the fourth score. Sazdanoff added the extra point on an off-tackle smash.

On the fourth touchdown jaunt Tucker took out two tacklers on one block at the 24-yard stripe.

Tucker made his third marker in the third heat when he broke through tackle and out-ran the Appleseed secondary on a 65-yard excursion.

Shortly before the end of the third period Jack Bargahiser, Pioneer back, was carried off the field due to a head injury. This morning he still had a headache and remained home from school.

The final score came on a 20-yard off-tackle smash by Esker Jordan.

Before the game, queens Betsy Clark, Simpson and Janet Hardin, Appleseed, were driven around the track with their attendants in convertibles.

Miss Clark's attendants were OFF TO THE RACES—Tommy Tucker, Simpson's fleet halfback, takes off around left end for an 18-yard gain to the Appleseed 17 on the second scrimmage play at Stadium field last night. Tucker scored three touchdowns as Simpson defeated Appleseed, 38-0.

Mansfield-Toledo Waite Clash Listed as Crucial Encounter

By JOHN BARRINGTON, INS Sports Writer.

The week-end high school grid slate was loaded today with what the sports writing fraternity refer to as "crucial" games—the kind that have an important bearing on nebulous state-wide honors or on more concrete sectional championships.

Topping the list of five-star attractions were the following: Cleveland Cathedral Latin vs. Collinwood; Mansfield at Toledo Waite;

Dayton Oakwood at Lima Central;

Dayton Champlain at Massillon. All those contests involved one or more members of the ten top teams as selected by sports editors in the weekly International News Service poll. All of them also placed at stake one or more undefeated records.

Cathedral Latin, poll leader, places a record of 32 games without defeat on the block tomorrow against Collinwood, also unbeaten this year. To heighten the interest, the game will determine Cleveland's East Senate champion and one of the city's Nov. 23 charity game participants.

Mansfield, ranked tenth by the scribes, with five wins and two ties, faces the No. 2 team in the state at Waite stadium tonight. Waite has won six games and was upset, 8-6, by Toledo Libbey. Fourteen thousand spectators are expected, with Mansfield sending a special train to the game.

Two unbeaten and untied schools that went against Canton Timken last week is scheduled to open tonight's conflict.

The Mansfield Tire and Rubber company special train will leave at 5 p. m. for the game. Nine coaches, including one for the Tiger band and another for sandwiches and soft drinks, make up the train.

Assistant Coaches Vern Hoffman and Fred Staub are scouting Martins Ferry tonight. The Purple is entertaining Steubenville Wells.

Demchuk Retains Wrestling Belt

Johnny Demchuk retained his junior heavyweight title last night in the main-gig of the weekly wrestling card at the Armory, when he pinned Davey Reynolds in the second and third fall with his famous "rolling toe hold."

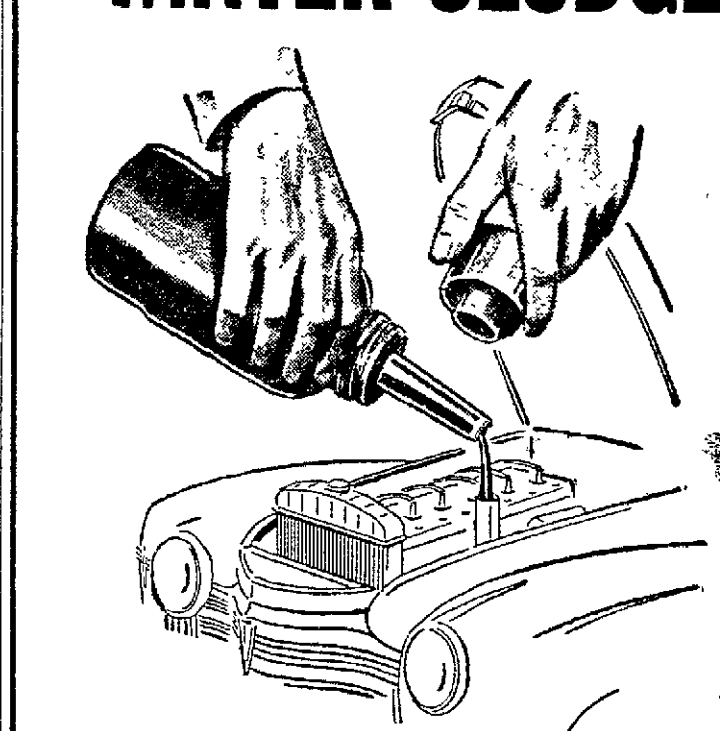

In the preliminary match Speed LaRance took the count twice from Jesse James with the wicked Canadian grapevine hold.

Demchuk pinned Reynolds in seven minutes and 15 seconds and five minutes and 36 seconds.

Promoter Earl Myers has signed Ali Pasha, the mad Turk, who has been grappling on the west coast, to wrestle Antone Leone of Brooklyn in next week's main-gig at the Armory.

Notre Dame enjoyed its first open date in 28 years on Saturday, October 19.

HARRIERS VIE FOR OHIO CROSS COUNTRY LAURELS

One hundred and thirty-six schoolboy harriers will vie for honors at the nineteenth annual state cross country meet tomorrow at 11 a. m. on the Coolidge golf club two-mile course.

Seventeen teams from five districts and 17 individuals will compete in the Ohio meet. Cleveland West Tech won the championship in 1945 and will be defending its title against such track power-houses as the unbeaten Mansfield Senior high Tigers. The Bengals have topped seven straight meets, including the district at Toledo.

Coach Harry Mehoek will string along with the same lads that brought home district honors. They are Pete Vogt, Jim Schoop, Harold Leppert, Bob Kibler, Jim Schuler, Rudy Sheets and Gene Carlisle.

Vogt and Schoop placed one-two in the Toledo district competition.

Seven runners will compete from each of the eligible schools with only five counting in the scoring. Individual prizes will go to the first 20 runners to cross the finish line regardless of school affiliation. Cups will be awarded to the first two teams.

Teams competing for the 1946 state title are: Mansfield, Toledo DeVilbiss, Toledo Catholic Central, Cleveland West Tech, Newark, Lanier, Dayton Roosevelt, Dayton Dunbar, Lakewood, Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Cleveland Rhodes, Akron North, Akron East, Akron Garfield, Louisville, Cincinnati Western Hills and Cincinnati Central Vocational.

Ashland's Eagles Play at Kenyon

ASHLAND—Ashland college's Eagles go into Saturday's grid tussle at Kenyon with a 500 per cent average. The Eagles have defeated Ohio Northern, 6 to 0, and Wittenberg, 13 to 7.

Heidelberg defeated Ashland, 7 to 0, and Riram was victorious over the Eagles in last Saturday's homecoming game, 26 to 12. Ashland tied Mt. Union, 6 to 6, earlier this season.

The Ashland eleven have two more grid contests after the Kenyon game. On Nov. 9, the Eagles entertain Findlay college, and travel on Nov. 16 for the final 1946 game with Albion college.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — The Syracuse junior varsity football squad will close its season against the West Point Jayvees at Syracuse November 23.

Pioneers 'n' Bulldogs; Letter On Recreation; Grid Prognostication

By Fred Tharp

MANSFIELD SENIOR HIGH school rooters could take lessons from the "kids" at the Johnny Appleseed-John Simpson junior high school clash last night on slippery Stadium field. Those kids and the adults that helped swell the crowd to better than 4,200 really gave vociferous approval to the gridiron antics and the fine musical exhibitions of the two bands.

As one of the Tiger followers so aptly put it, "Mansfield high is enjoying its best season in years but their support is nothing like that afforded these two junior high teams."

Dissa and data: Rival queens made entrance into the Stadium in style befitting their majesties. . . . Betsy Clark, of Simpson, and her court made the first entrance and then came Janet Hardin, Appleseed, and her attendants. . . . Perched on top of shiny convertibles, too. . . . Bands joining in the "Star Spangled Banner" prior to the kickoff.

Unluckiest player on the field was Johnny Sazdanoff, the smooth scouting Simpson sub. . . . He skidded into paydirt four times but had three jaunts nullified by 15-yard penalties. . . . The Bulldogs had a corner on the penalty market with six major infractions called on them. . . . And they really hurt. . . . Cost four scores. . . .

At the half both bands received spontaneous approval. . . . Arlene Locke, Appleseed majorette, and her scintillating acrobatics. . . . The precision routine of the Simpson "gal" baton wielders. . . .

Irish Kreiger and Lars Wagner working their seventh Mansfield city championship game. . . . Wagner refereed two Mansfield Senior high games. . . . Kreiger is Ohio's top authority on football rules. . . . Rodney Rose, umpire, officiating his third contest between the schools. . . . All three concurred that the precision and smoothness of the Simpson gang was the best that they had seen in the series.

Dear Sir:

It is the writers understanding that the City of Mansfield will submit to the voters of that city a recreation program similar to the one now in effect in the City of Norwood. This information comes to the writer from Harold Dillon, recreation director of our commission, who informs me that you are manifesting a very keen interest in a program that will be useful to the youth and adults of your fine city. The writer commends you for your fine work, and for your interest in the greatest of all works "the leaders of tomorrow."

Since the inception of this program, the writer knows of no project that has had better effect for cleaner living for the child and adult life of our city. During the summer our parks are well attended during the day and catering to capacity crowds each night.

DEFENSIVE TACTICS of the Mansfield Tiger forward wall are coming in for quite a bit of attention in Ohio schoolboy gridiron circles. And Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Toledo Waite has bent an ear to the laudatory comments.

Mollenkopf's Indians feature plenty of power stuff inside the tackles and that is where the usually rock-ribbed Tiger forwards have been the toughest. Waite has worked out behind locked doors all week trying to come up with an offense that will penetrate the Mansfield line tonight.

Only Canton Timken has been able to make any yardage between the Tiger tackles. The Trojans proved able mudders last week and blasted for 87 yards in 32 trips up the middle. The previous top figure had been the 56 yards annexed by Sandusky, a team that fell before the Bengals, 55-2. Only three times have opponents' backs been able to infiltrate for more than 10 yards. Chuck Negro, Timken, bottled for 18 to set the high mark.

Massillon bulled for 52 yards, Springfield, 50; Cleveland East, 40; Portsmouth, 35, and Marion Harding, minus eight. In the seven games, the middle of Coach Paul Snyder's forward wall grudgingly permitted 317 yards on 146 carries, an average of only 2.17 a trip. Outside the tackles, opponents picked up 390 yards on 103 tries, an average of 3.78. The overall defensive record is 707 yards in 249 excursions, an average of 2.84.

Much of the credit goes to the stellar Tiger guards—Dave Richards and Dick Gross. Heavyweights Dave Boals and Bob Marth, who comes in on defense, help smother the plays and the work of line-backers Dave Wentz and Bob Rondy leaves little to be desired. Al Henke and Jim Sineron or Ray Beard handle the defensive flanker positions admirably.

Small wonder the Tigers are still among the dwindling list of unbeaten Buckeye scholastic football aggregations.

PAUL BIXLER'S BUCKEYES

finally lived up to their pre-season press notices in annihilating Minnesota last week and all experts to the contrary Ohio State is in a pretty good spot to upset the Western Conference race by erasing the Northwestern Wildcat threat tomorrow afternoon at Evanston.

So with digits crossed we give the Bucks a nod over the Wildcats and spring into another week of pigskin prognostication with our eyes wide open. Of course, with the crystal ball fouled up last week, probably the best way to forecast tomorrow's fuses would be with a heads and tails apparatus.

The victory enabled Simpson to conclude the 1946 grid campaign unbeaten. The Bulldogs won five games and tied one, Henline's aggregation had won four and tied one prior to last night's touchdown deluge. In 1945, the Appleseed gridgers rolled over Simpson 18-0.

Taking the kick-off on the Pioneer's 41 yard stripe, Simpson scored on the fourth play of the game. Ken McCally smashed through center for seven and Tommy Tucker, swept around right end for 18 yards.

With a first down on the Appleseed 17, Don Cline darted around right end for another first down on the 5, where Tucker smashed off tackle for the first score. Charlie Jenkins ran for the extra point.

Howard Tipper, Appleseed captain and Charles Marchant were the stellar ball carriers for the Pioneers but the Simpson forward wall was just too powerful.

Simpson rolled up 13 first downs to three for Appleseed and gained 365 yards to 63 for the Pioneers.

Mid-way in the first quarter Simpson hit pay dirt for the second time. Jenkins went off tackle for the score.

John Sazdanoff raced around end the next time Simpson took the ball and darted for a TD, but the score was nullified due to a clipping penalty. On the next play Don Cline faded back and threw an aerial to Ed Demyon. Bulldog end, who scored, only to have the play called back because of an unnecessary roughness penalty.

The Bulldogs added two more touchdowns in the second stanza on some beautiful running plays by Tucker and Sazdanoff. Tucker returned a Tipper punt 30 yards for his second TD and shortly after Sazdanoff intercepted a Tipper aerial and raced 47 yards for the fourth score. Sazdanoff added the extra point on an off-tackle smash.

On the fourth touchdown jaunt Tucker took out two tacklers on one block at the 24-yard stripe.

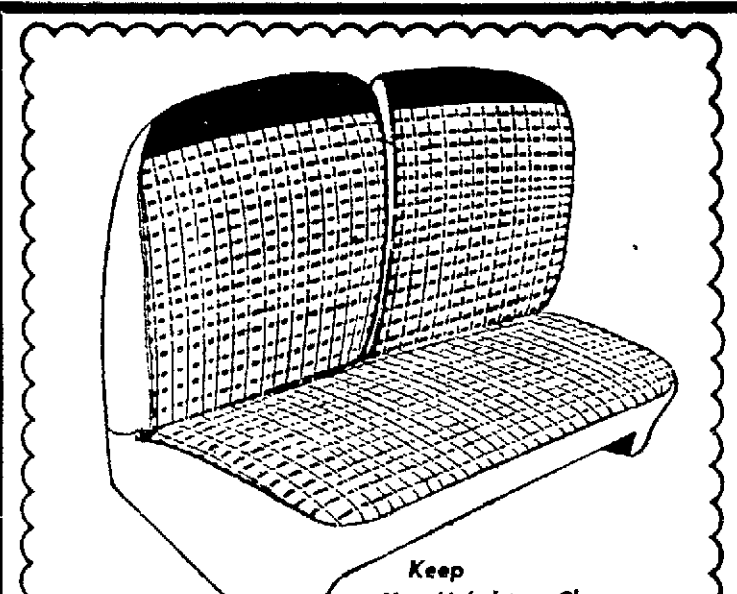

Tucker made his third marker in the third heat when he broke through tackle and out-ran the Appleseed secondary on a 65-yard excursion.

The final score came on a 20-yard off-tackle smash by Esker Jordan.

NEW YORK—(INS)—If I had $10,000,000—I'd buy myself a major league baseball club and set out to have some fun out of that business.

I wouldn't waste that money to be like Rickey, for instance. The man in Brooklyn is so furtive in his operations that on-lookers sometimes become suspicious.

And I wouldn't want to be like MacPhail either. He spends most of his time yammering about one thing and another, and when it is all over he has accomplished some minor thing that he magnifies into a miracle.

If I had those ten million bucks I would buy a ball club made up of the following:

Barry Feller, Hal Newhouser and Harry Brecheen as pitchers; Phil Masi, catcher; Stan Musial, first base; Bobby Doerr, second base; Lou Boudreau, shortstop; Whitey Kurowski, third base; Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and Terry Moore and/or Enos Slaughter outfield.

I would spend all of the 10 million that it might require to muster that team then I would sit back and be content to know that I had the best baseball club in the business.

The club would include Joe Gordon to help out around second base; Marty Marion, despite his bad back, and pitchers Doc Ferris and Tex Hughson although they were among the world series disappointments.

I haven't yet decided which ball club I would buy, but it wouldn't really make any difference so long as I could get those aforementioned players.

Purchase of the Philadelphia Athletics might be a bad deal. They are so utterly run down that they are not much more than a fair minor league club. No improvement is in sight for them either.

The Athletics are the victims of Connie Mack's conservative policy, based upon what they used to do back before the turn of the century. He has come up with some great clubs since those days, but seems now to be resigned to merely hanging on.

Of course the ideal situation with those 10 million bucks would be to buy the mentioned players and somehow manage to take the Yankee franchise away from MacPhail.

You then could hire him to run the club and everything might be great. You would find it necessary to keep him whipped into line to prevent his ceaseless prattling, but in the long run you would cash in on his ability and showmanship.

The suggestion that the Yankees couldn't be bought is, of course, silly. With 10 million bucks you can buy anything.

Not only that, bud, but you would get your 10 million or any disbursed parts thereof back rapidly with a ball club in New York, where customers will pay to watch even the Giants. No kidding.

Yes sir, if a fellow had 10 million loose dollars that he didn't particularly need he could run the bundle into 20 million without much trouble and have a lot of fun doing it.

Akron Bears Host To Newark Eleven

Having overcome a suicide schedule requiring 4 games with in 15 days, the Akron Bears, back home with 4 straight wins to their credit, are hoping for another scalp when they clash with the Newark Bombers in the Rubber Bowl Sunday afternoon.

In the four straight victories the Bears accumulated a total of 128 points, an average of 32 markers per game. Their opponents have had to be satisfied with a total of 35 points, less than 9 points per game.

Coach Gene Ronzani, the veteran T-Formation expert and Chicago Bear immortal, credits a large share of this imposing record to the Bear powerful forward wall. In the past four wins the Bears line has held opposing backs to less than 50 yards average rushing per game. The lineup of the starting Bear forward wall averages better than 225 pounds per man from end to end.

IRISH, CADETS FACE BREATHERS

Warming Up For Next Week's Tilt

NEW YORK — (AP) — Army and Notre Dame, looking ahead to next week's classic which brings the nation's two top football powers face to face, warm up against teams with unimpressive records tomorrow as other major events attempt to promote a semblance of order in the various conference campaigns.

The first November week-end of 1946 finds only a dozen major teams still in the all-victorious class and not a single conference which can point to any one outfit as making a runaway of the title race.

Pennsylvania, Georgia, UCLA and Harvard, which with Army and Notre Dame make up the select circle of unbeaten and untied teams, all face opponents capable of sending them to join the victims of last week's major upsets—Tennessee, Texas and North Carolina State.

While Army tangles at West Point with a West Virginia team that lost to Pitt and Temple but won its other four starts, Notre Dame will move into Baltimore to test its guns against a Navy crew that has suffered four straight setbacks since squeezing past Villanova in its opener.

Pennsylvania, the country's No. 3 team, risks its perfect record in an Ivy league game at Philadelphia against the Princeton Tigers, who dropped close decisions to Harvard and Cornell.

Georgia pits its 5-0 record against an invading Alabama team, beaten once in six starts, in the Southeastern conference, where Vanderbilt will be at Auburn and Mississippi at Louisiana State for other important title tests.

North Carolina, unbeaten but tied once, goes to Tennessee, the Southeastern leader which was embarrassed last week by another Southern conference club, Wake Forest. A second interconference struggle in the South sends Georgia Tech to Duke.

With Notre Dame playing in the East, the midwestern scene will be dominated by four Big Nine struggles, any one of which could produce the ultimate conference champion. Northwestern, with a season's record of four wins and a tie, goes after its third conference victory against invading Ohio State, which has a win, a loss and a tie in league play.

Illinois goes to Iowa, with each owning just one conference defeat, while Michigan and Wisconsin, both still in the running, visit Minnesota and Purdue, respectively. Indiana will entertain Pittsburgh in a non-conference go.

Missouri and Nebraska, tied with Oklahoma for the lead in the Big Six, will attempt to eliminate each other at Lincoln, with Iowa State going to Kansas State to see which occupies the conference cellar. Oklahoma and Kansas have non-conference dates, the Sooners invading Texas Christian and the Jayhawks entertaining Oklahoma A. and M.

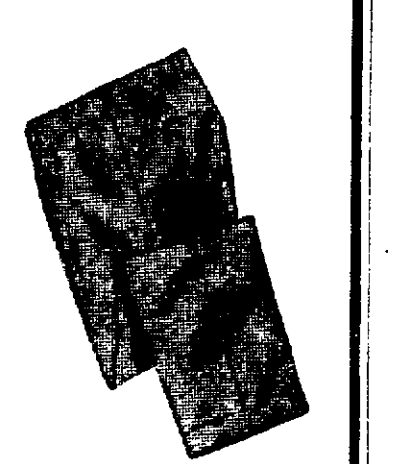

Baseball Draft Scheduled Today

WILDCATS-BUCKEYES TOP BIG NINE CARD

CHICAGO—(UP)—The stakes in the scrambled Western conference football race will be titled tomorrow with a probable Ross Bowl bid in the balance as a complete league program is arded.

Undated Northwestern risks its record in the day's headline game against Ohio State at Evanston.

Illinois, in the midst of a brilliant comeback, faces Iowa at Iowa City in the secondary feature. In other games Michigan plays the traditional "Little Brown Jug" game with Minnesota at Minneapolis; and Purdue opposes Wisconsin at Lafayette. In a non-conference game Indiana entertains Pittsburgh at Bloomington.

Northwestern is the current Big Nine pacesetter with two victories and a tie. The Wildcats are in the enviable position of being able to win the conference championship strictly on the basis of their own play since they can eliminate Ohio State tomorrow and then have the chance to conquer another contender, Illinois, later on.

Northwestern hasn't won a conference championship since 1936. The Wildcats have had two weeks to prepare for the battle with Ohio State. Coach Lynn Waldorf used his regulars only eight minutes last week against the College of Pacific and gave the Buck eyes little chance to pick up information.

Ohio State has been an in-and-out team all season. The Bucks turned in their best performance of the campaign last Saturday in trouncing Minnesota 39 to 9.

Bill Veeck Prepares To Lose Right Foot

CLEVELAND — (UP) — President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians prepared to have his right leg amputated below the knee either today or tomorrow.

Veeck insisted he would be "on his feet" in a month and would attend the major league meetings in Los Angeles in December. His foot and ankle were injured more than two years ago, while he served at Bougainville with the marines. Veeck entered the Cleveland Clinic last week with a recurrence of the infection.

Attendants described Veeck's health as good and were confident no complications would result from the amputation.
